Other Witnesses Testify to Abstemious Habits of Roosevelt.

WELL KNOWN MEN GIVE EVIDENCE

Libel Suit Can Hardly Go to Jury Before Middle of Next Week.

Marquette, Mich., May 28.—Introduction of further testimony to show the abstemious habits of the plaintiff was resumed today in the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against George A. Newett, publisher of the Iron Ore of Ishpeming, Mich., who charged him with drunkenness.

John Callon O'Loughlin, a Washington correspondent, was the first witness.

The tenseness which pervaded the atmosphere of Judge Flannigan's court the first two days seemed to have subsided. Lawyers, witnesses and principals in the suit confessed to profound slumber last night and ravenous performances at the breakfast table and smilingly took up the thread of the case where it left off yesterday.

When Principals Entered.

Col. Roosevelt entered with George Shiras, his host here, and took his accustomed seat with a row of spectators inside the railing. His gaze turned upon the jury and then upon O'Loughlin as the latter was sworn.

Mr. Newett, the defendant, came into court with his counsel. He is very ill, but his ruddy countenance hid this from all but those who knew him well. He sat looking straight in front of him and not at any one in particular, utterly motionless as he has sat thus far in the proceedings.

Today, it was expected, would be devoted entirely to the oral testimony of Col. Roosevelt's witnesses. These include Robert Bacon, former secretary of state; Truman H. Newberry, former secretary of the navy; Gilford Pinchot, James R.

EVERYBODY WANTS TO SEE WHITE HOUSE MINT PATCH.

Washington, May 28.—The white house mint patch referred to by Col. Roosevelt in his testimony in the libel suit he is pressing at Marquette, Mich., promises to become as much an object of interest to capital visitors as the Washington monument or the library of congress. Already tourists are asking the white house police to point out the bed that gave up its fragrant leaves for Col. Roosevelt's "occasional juleps." The bed, fifteen feet long by four feet wide, is situated alongside a lattice-work house used by the white house laundress in which to dry clothes. Although the mint always has been within easy reach of the white house porch, the present patch was established by President McKinley. President Taft seldom used it, although it furnished its part to many a refreshing julep served to Mr. Taft's callers.

President Wilson also uses it—for garnishing spring lamb.

SHIPS 'EM BACK; WORKS IN PEACE

Four Wives Too Many for Mr. Fear During Stay in Chicago.

CASE IS DISMISSED

Chicago, May 28. Petitions asking that George Fear, 65 years old, be compelled to support a total of twenty-nine children, which were filed by four women who claimed to be his wives, were dismissed today in County Judge Owen's court when Fear told Mrs. Josephine Lawrence, an investigator, that he had shipped all the women back to Salt Lake City, whence he and they had come.

Fear said he came to Chicago to develop a patent and brought only one of his wives, Mrs. Josephine Fear, with him, leaving her 19 children at Salt Lake. That was early last winter and just recently the other three women arrived. All was peaceful he declared, until he had to leave Chicago for a short business trip.

Mrs. Josephine Fear then became alarmed lest he had deserted her and the other women, and applied to Mrs. Lawrence. The other women then filed petitions also giving their names as Mrs. Near, Mrs. Dear, and Mrs. Beer, hoping that way to avoid getting Fear into trouble in addition to that they were making for him.

"I found I could not work in peace in this city," Fear told Mrs. Lawrence, "so I shipped them all back to Salt Lake, where I won't be bothered."

The case remained a mystery, until Fear appeared today, because of the similarity of the names of the complainants. Further to puzzle the authorities the women gave false addresses. However, the cases will not be prosecuted now since the complaining witnesses have left town.

PASTOR DECRIES LIES AT FUNERALS

More Told There Than Any Other Place, Says Rev. Mr. White.

FAVORS A REVISION

Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—More lies are told at funerals than any other place, according to the Rev. Thomas R. White, Presbyterian pastor at Indiana university, in an address today before the convention of the Indiana Funeral Directors' association. Mr. White said the modern funeral should be revised and the funeral sermon abolished. He also said there should be no Sunday funerals and took exception to what he terms the barbaric custom of having the entire audience form in line and pass by the bier.

"The funeral sermon is unnecessary," said Mr. White, "and ought to be cut out. If a minister can't say anything good truthfully about the deceased person, then he should keep still.

"A funeral is a place for silence, order and sympathy, not for show and noise. I believe the time will come when cremation will be the generally adopted method of disposing of dead bodies and I believe it is the proper way."

VON KLEIN TO FACE A TRIAL

Diamond Broker Fails to Secure His Freedom at Chicago.

FORMER FT. WAYNE GIRL WINS A POINT

Accused Man Must Return to Coast on Miss Ethel Newcomb's Charge.

Chicago, May 28.—Edmund E. Von Klein, a Minneapolis diamond broker, must return to Portland, Ore., to stand trial on charges preferred against him by Miss Ethel Newcomb, formerly of Fort Wayne, Ind.

EDMUND E. VON KLEIN.

Judge Kersten today refused to release him on habeas corpus proceedings begun by Von Kleins attorneys.

Soon after Von Klein had been remanded to the county jail, Detective Joseph Day, of Portland, served a warrant issued by the governor of Oregon.

Counsel for Von Klein attempted vainly to block extradition by raising the point that the information on which his return to Portland was sought was insufficient.

Miss Newcomb accused Von Klein of pretending to marry her at Portland in 1911 and then deserting her several days after the "marriage," taking her jewelry valued at $3,325.

NEW SENATOR IS GIVEN STIFF JOB

PLACE IS A NEW ONE

Washington, May 28.—Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, was today elected democratic floor manager and assistant to Majority Leader Kern by the senate democratic caucus. Senator Lewis' position is a new one to the senate and corresponds to the whip in the house.

The caucus adopted a resolution urging all democratic senators remain in Washington and went on record as opposed to any long trips to Europe such as several senators had planned until the tariff bill should be disposed of. Because of their slender majority plans were discussed for keeping members in line and getting them to the senate for important votes.

The caucus also named a committee to confer with a committee from the house and members of the national democratic committee regarding re-organization of the congressional campaign committee. Senators Gore, Chamberlain, Shively, Newlands and Thomas were named.

Gets Wilson's Views.

Representative Britten, of Illinois, today sought President Wilson's views on his measure to provide a six-year single term for the president and vice president, the abolition of nominating conventions, the choice of the president and vice president by presidential preference primaries and direct elections without the use of electors.

Mr. Britten said on leaving the white house that the president favored the abolition of national conventions for nominating purposes, but thought them necessary to draft party platforms, and declared that Mr. Wilson approved presidential primaries and direct election which would shorten the ballot. On the six-year proposition, Mr. Britten said the president refrained from comment.

White house officials stated that the president had not arrived at any conclusion as to the practicability of abolishing national conventions but he had always favored nomination by the primary system and a shorter ballot.

Plans for Investigation.

A meeting of the senate committee on education and labor was called late today to make plans for investigation of the miners' strike in the Paint Creek coal fields of West Virginia, authorized by the senate yesterday. It was expected that Senators Borah, Swanson, Martin and Kenyon would be appointed as the sub-committee to visit the strike zone.

WILL SEEK TO OUST TEACHER

KRAUSE AFTER SCALP

Chicago, May 28. Charges will be preferred today against a public school teacher who ordered thrown into a furnace an injured sparrow brought to school by one of her sixth grade pupils. Hugo Krause, superintendent of the Anti-Cruelty society, asserts he will call the incident to the attention of the board of education and ask that the teacher be suspended.

According to Mr. Krause, a boy found a young sparrow which had fallen from its nest and was hurt. He carried the bird to school and placed it on the teacher's desk.

"Give the bird to the janitor and tell him to throw it into the furnace," the teacher is quoted as saying.

"Oh, alive?" protested the pupils.

"Yes, alive. The sparrow is one of those birds that fight the robins."

The order was obeyed.

Mr. Krause says the teacher violated the humane education law of Illinois, which provides that teachers shall instruct pupils in kindness to birds and animals not less than half an hour each week.

LENNON TO LOOK OVER THE PLANT

Will Go to Indianapolis to Study Problem of Filtration.

INSTALL SYSTEM HERE

Edward J. Lennon, member of the board of public works, will go to Indianapolis tomorrow and will spend a couple of days studying the water filtration system there in order to inform himself and the other city officials as to the best sort of plant to construct in Fort Wayne.

Although no recommendation has been decided upon it has been known for several years that the Fort Wayne supply is not adequate and that it must be replenished in the course of a very few years. This has been discussed for a long time by the present and former administrations and filtration is apparently the best solution.

The board of works has not gotten along so far with the matter that any figures can be given out but it has been under advisement for some time and will be the next big improvement undertaken by city officials.

The plant at Cincinnati and several others have been investigated with a view of getting a line on the system best adapted for the city of Fort Wayne.

ELEVEN FIREMEN OVERCOME.

Chicago, May 28.—Eleven firemen weren vercome early today in attempting to rescue a large number of horses in the stable of W. S. Wieboldt & Co., which was partially destroyed by fire. Forty-one horses were burned to death. The firemen will recover.

CLIMBS INTO AUTO IN HIS GARAGE TO END LIFE.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 28.—Walter Weiss, 65 years old, a clothing manufacturer, was found dead today sitting upright in his automobile in his private garage. Gas was escaping from a fixture in the garage and the police say the man undoubtedly committed suicide.

CARS QUALIFY FOR BIG RACE

FOURTEEN OTHERS BEING TRIED OUT

Big Crowd at Speedway as Preparations for Event Go Forward.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 28.—Six more cars, up to noon today had qualified in the time trials for the 500 mile automobile race to be held at the Indianapolis motor speedway on Memorial day. Nine cars passed in the time trials yesterday and it was hoped to try out the remaining fourteen entries, which include most of the foreign makes, this afternoon.

The cars which qualified today, their number, driver and time for the circuit of the 2½ mile brick track, follows:

22	Mercer	Wishart	1:49.77
12	Gray Fox	Wilcox	1:50.48
25	Tulsa	Clark	1:58.67
35	Mason	Haupt	1:51.50
33	Case	B. Endicott	1:45.02
6	Mason	Tower	1:42.00

Endicott Back on Track.

Harry Endicott, who was injured yesterday by being struck on the arm by a tire valve when his car threw a tire, was back on the track today seemingly none the worse for the accident. Zucavelli, the foreign driver, said he had his car, which broke a spoke when it threw a tire on the south turn yesterday, in shape again.

The entries in the race were weighed in today at the speedway and the technical experts, named to examine the strike and bore to see that no oversized motor is sneaked into the contest, hoped to complete their work this afternoon. Another large crowd was at the speedway to witness the time trials.

All machines must be able to make at least 75 miles an hour in the preliminary tests.

Joe Dawson, last year's winner, who signed yesterday to drive an especially built car, whose owner was refused permission to drive in the race because of inexperience, had his mount on the track putting it through its paces. He says he is well pleased with the car.

ENGINEER MET DEATH AT POST

Told Fireman to Jump, But Stuck to Throttle Himself.

J. P. Lakner, fireman freight train, Cleveland.

Injured:

H. D. Kantler, fireman passenger train, Sharpsville, Pa., fractured right leg and bruises.

Who is Mr. Lane's Double?

A YOUNG MAN, carrying a small medicine case, which proclaimed him to be a physician, entered a southbound car the other day. He espied John W. Lane seated in the car, and, as he settled himself down beside Mr. Lane, he extended his hand and gave him a hearty greeting.

"I'm mighty glad to see you, doctor," said the young man to Mr. Lane. "I don't see you often enough."

Mr. Lane isn't a doctor. He is a piano tuner with the Packard company. Nevertheless, he returned the young man's greeting and let him proceed.

"No," continued the man with the medicine case, "I have been thinking that we younger physicians don't mingle enough with the older ones. You, with your experience, couldn't help being of much service to us, and we ought to seek your companionship and society more than we do."

Mr. Lane admitted the possibility of the case.

"Live on the south side?" asked the young man.

"Yes," responded Mr. Lane, "Poplar avenue. Nice part of town."

"Splendid. I like the south side."

"I've always liked it," said Mr. Lane.

"How has business been with you lately?" asked the young man, rising to get off at his corner.

"Splendid. There's a good deal doing in our line just now. You see," said Mr. Lane, as the young man was starting toward the door, "I'm a piano tuner, and in the spring of the year a good many people—"

But the man with the medicine case had stepped off.

"The last I saw of him," says Mr. Lane, "he was standing there gazing in a bewildered way at the disappearing car. I wonder who he thought I was."

CORONER BLAMES SWITCHING CREW

Lake Shore Men Negligent in Giving Proper Warning of Approach.

THE BOLMAN DEATH

In a verdict returned today by Coroner Edward H. Kruse, in the death of Louis Bolman, who was killed on May 14, blame for the accident and death is placed on the switching crew that was in charge of the Lake Shore train which backed into the tracks at the rear of the Indiana Road Machine company's plant.

Coroner Kruse states that Bolman was run over and crushed to death as a result of carelessness on the part of the Lake Shore crew and that proper warning of the approach of the backing freight cars was not given in time for Bolman to escape death.

Mr. Bolman was employed by the Indiana Road Machine company and at the time of the accident was working on the tracks. Some Lake Shore freight cars were backed into the switch, striking a flat car before the train crew gave proper warning.

Chicago, May 28.—The non-stop reliability automobile run from Chicago to Boston, scheduled to start June 25, was postponed at a meeting yesterday of the contest committee of the Chicago Automobile club. $10,000 TO LIFT GARY LID AGAIN

Chicago Underworld Said to Be Contributing to Slush Fund.

RALSTON TO HEAR IT

Chicago, May 28.—Discovery was made yesterday that a slush fund of $10,000 has been raised in the west side underworld as a means to prying the lid off Gary, Ind., once more. Full reports have been made to Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, of the Juvenile Protective association, and a summary probably will be mailed today by her to the governor of Indiana.

The disorderly resorts of the Indiana steel town were closed last week by Mayor Tom Knotts. Interests which once controlled a big part of Chicago's old west side district have been operating extensively in Gary, and there, Mrs. Britton says, the fund has been collected. "Mike de Pike Heitler figures as one of the principals, and other notorious Chicagoans are named. The contributors are generally those with an interest in the deserted district.

Mrs. Britton wanted to send her information to some one in authority in the Gary territory, but is not confident of any of the prosecutors. It was a row between some of the interests, it is charged, which precipitated Mayor Knotts' order to close up the town. Now the slush fund holders want to reach "some one" to get the lid eased off a bit, with a wide open town as the ultimate aim.

Collectors Get Percentage.

The information to be forwarded the Indiana executive includes the stated amount of the fund, the names of the collectors, the names of the principal contributors, and the interested officials to whom the pot was to go eventually—after the collectors had deducted their 10 per cent. It is asserted one reason for raising a big fund was the number of these interested officials, so numerous that the fund would have to be "split a lot o' ways," as the collectors crudely expressed it.

Meanwhile many of the former inmates of the Gary levee are in Chicago cafes, waiting for the lid to be removed. They say it will be only a few days, and are not worrying. Many of them were forced to contribute to the fund.

Ben Hayman, associated with Mayor Knotts in the sorry affair of the Porter (Ind.) race track last year, indignantly denied any connection with the fund. He intimated that if "Mike de Pike" had anything to do with the collection he, Ben, would not seek any connection with it. Rather he would walk several miles to keep out of the way.

"Mayor Knotts' order, I am sure," said Hayman, "was because there had been talk of graft by certain city officials. He wanted to put an end to any such talk."

Indianapolis, May 28.—John W. Hanan of Lagrange became head of the grand lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Indiana at the election in the meeting of the grand lodge yesterday afternoon, succeeding Elmer F. Gay of Indianapolis.

The other officers are:

Deputy Grand Master—Martin A. Morrison, Frankfort.

Senior Grand Warden—Joseph A. McKee, Jeffersonville.

Grand Treasurer—Frank E. Gavin, Indianapolis.

Grand Secretary—Calvin C. Prather, Indianapolis.

Grand Chaplain—Rev. Lewis Brown, Indianapolis.

Grand Lecturer—William C. Geake, Fort Wayne.

The grand treasurer and grand secretary were re-elected. Charles P. Benedict, the grand junior warden, was advanced from senior grand deacon.

O. E. Holloway, C. V. Cravens and J. W. Dunbar, trustees of the grand lodge, presented their reports on the proposed location of the Masonic home.

Home Propositions.

Propositions from Crawfordsville, Rushville, Franklin, Zionsville, Bedford and Jeffersonville were investigated by the committee.

At Crawfordsville a tract of 200 acres lying adjacent to Wabash college and overlooking its athletic field can be purchased for $200 an acre, or seventy or more acres from the tract obtained at $250 an acre. A bonus of $10,000 was offered by the Commercial club of Crawfordsville. This site is described as an ideal location.

Moses F. Dunn and sister of Bedford have offered a portion of a tract of 368 acres, near Bedford, with the restriction that no stone quarries shall be opened upon the land for a period of twenty years. The site is appraised at $35,000. Water from one spring on the land is said to contain medicinal properties similar to the West Baden and French Lick waters.

Accessibility to Indianapolis is one of the favorable claims put forth by Rushville. There a bonus of $10,000 is offered. Land may be obtained from $125 to $200 an acre.

Judge Hanan, newly elected grand master of Indiana Masons, is a member of the Scottish Rite bodies and of the Mystic Shrine in Fort Wayne, and is well known in this city.

MARRIED AT MIDNIGHT.

Former Fort Wayne Woman's Brother Delayed the Ceremonies.

(Omaha Daily News.)

The novelty of being married at midnight, and by a woman at that, was enjoyed last Saturday night by Mrs. Suzanne Carson, daughter of Mrs. George W. Dale of Villisea, Ia., and Daniel Canfield of O'Neill, Neb.

They had planned to be married at 8 p. m. when word was received from the bride's brother, Joseph Dale of Villisea, Ia., that he would be unable to reach Omaha before 11:20 that night, so the wedding was postponed.

The marriage lines were read by the Rev. Mrs. Visa Bell at her home, 2515 Pierce street. The bride was attended by Miss Cleth Minteer. The wedding march was played by Mrs. R. W. Matson, and Byron D. Shaw served as best man.

Little Miss Jennie Nelson scattered flowers throughout the rooms and presented the ring in a white rose. A wedding feast followed the ceremony for the bridal party and the immediate relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Canfield are living at Twenty-first and Leavenworth streets.

The bride was a former resident of Fort Wayne, having lived here with her mother, Mrs. Dale, for a number of years. She is well known to many Fort Wayne people

HE SELLS CLEAN CITY GOVERNMENT

Young Man Has Just Delivered a Consignment to Dayton.

WHAT WILSON DOES

Dayton O., May 28.—Here is the last word in public service jobs:

A "good government contractor!"

Lucius E. Wilson of Detroit has just "sold" the city of Dayton, clean municipal government. He took the job on a contract, fulfilled his agreement, and has received his pay check.

Here's the story:

Nearly a year ago John H. Patterson, head of the National Cash Register Co., and four other Daytonians got tired of the domination of Edward W. Hanley, democratic boss and his political machine.

LUCIUS E. WILSON

"The only way to get rid of Hanley is to get a new form of government and make it non-partisan," said Patterson.

So the movement for a "commission-manager" plan was started.

But neither Patterson or his four friends knew beans about practical politics or how to organize a non-partisan movement.

So they when to Detroit and got Wilson.

At that time Wilson was in the business of going to cities, organizing commercial bodies for them, installing a system, raising a maintenance fund and then turning the complete product over to local managers.

So he came to Dayton under contract to deliver to Patterson and the citizens' committee an organization that would make possible the adoption of the commission-manager form of government.

"One of my first moves was to make a card index of every voter in Dayton and to find out his politics, religion, occupation and social connections," says Wilson.

"Then we perfected an organization in every precinct.

"We had four things in our favor: A just cause, a complete organization that reached every voter, a representative ticket headed by Patterson and sufficient money to run the campaign."

For weeks the citizens' committee workers talked individually with the voters. There were more than six thousand of these "workers." Hundreds of public meetings were held.

Three weeks before the election every billboard was plastered with advertising. A week later Wilson went into the newspapers with single and double page advertisements, telling the people what a rotten government they had been having and inviting them to make a change.

The result was that the entire commission-manager ticket was elected.

DRIVERS WILL BE FINED SAYS JUDGE

Those Who Fail to Stop Back of Street Cars Will Get No Leniency.

FIRST ONE IN TODAY

After assessing George Ankenbruck, a driver for a local department store, the minimum fine of $5 and costs for failing to stop his vehicle ten feet back of a street car which had stopped to discharge passengers, Judge Mungovan announced that he will extend no leniency to those drivers who violate the ordinance in the case. The recent legislature passed a measure containing the provisions of the present city ordinance, and the law will become effective July 1 and heavier fines will be assessed after that.

Ankenbruck was defended in the city court this morning by Attorney Morris, who gave the city ordinance a thorough test. Although it was proved that Mr. Ankenbruck has a previous good record as a driver, the fact that he was careless in the instance for which he was arrested drew him the fine. While driving an automobile past a car which had stopped at Chestnut street on last Thursday morning Ankenbruck struck and slightly injured Cleveland Fry, who had just alighted from the street car. Mr. Fry happened to be an employe of the traction company, and the defense this morning tried to prove that he was not a legal passenger because he paid no fare, but Judge Mungovan ruled that employes of the traction company must be protected the same as other passengers.

For the benefit of drivers of automobiles and other vehicles Judge Mungovan said this morning that he will fine everyone who is brought before him on the proven charge of failing to stop in accordance with the ordinance. The judge realizes that drivers are becoming bold and whiz past cars at a great rate of speed without noticing whether passengers are alighting or not. In the case this morning Mr. Fry had just stepped from the car when the machine hit him. The police department is keeping a close lookout for violators of this section of the traffic ordinance, and a concerted effort is being put forth by the city to bring the dangerous practice of drivers to a stop.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORING TOWNS

MEETS DEATH IN NEWSPAPER OFFICE

Delphos, Ohio, May 28.—Clarence Nickol, linotype operator at the Herald and Courant office, was engaged on Tuesday in adjusting a guard on an incandescent lamp near the machine on which he was employed. He fell backward against the wall and was unable to release his hand from the wire. Those about him came to his assistance at once and an attempt was made to loosen his grasp on the wire. In a few seconds after the current started to course through his body it was shut off at a wall switch and he fell to the floor, carrying the lamp with him, the wires having been pulled from the socket by his weight. Physicians were immediately summoned and arrived and an heroic effort was made to start respiration, but to no avail. His death occurred an hour after the accident.

The cause of the presence of a voltage sufficient to produce death is somewhat of a mystery. He was working at an ordinary incandescent bulb at the time, which is supposed to be charged with a current of but 110 volts, which under ordinary circumstances would not destroy human life. He was standing on a metal portion of the machine at the time and it is supposed that on account of the damp weather a ground circuit was caused and the voltage made much more severe than it would otherwise have been.

Mr. Nickol was a few months over 22 years of age. He is survived by a young wife, to whom he was married just a year ago, and four brothers and three sisters. He was a popular young man in the office where he was employed and had a wide circle of friends.

BLUFFTON NEWS.

Bluffton, Ind., May 28.—Thomas Mettler, the local horse dealer, who has been making trouble in Bluffton for the past few months, has ended his career of drunkenness, according to an affidavit which he made yesterday in the office of Merriman & Dailey, local attorneys. He affixed his signature to the affidavit prepared by Attorney C. G. Dailey and disposed of a quart of booze which he had on his person at the time by the sewer route. He says that he will stay by the affidavit, as this is the only method he has found that will keep him in the straight and narrow path. Mettler is one of the best horse dealers in this part of the country and if he sticks to his resolution will succeed in making good money.

Judge D. W. Comstock, of Richmond, and a jury are hearing the suit on note filed in the circuit court here by George W. McClellan, of Ohio, against the estate of the late George McClellan, of Jackson township. The plaintiff is demanding a total of $9,000, from the estate, alleged due him on a note. The note is signed with the mark of the deceased and the plaintiff states that he signed the note with the name of the dead man. Five hundred dollars was to pay a loan and the remainder was to pay for the keeping of the deceased's father. About thirty-five witnesses have been summoned in the case and it will be hard fought on both sides, and will probably take the greater part of the remainder of the week.

Some objections were made to the marriage by the parents of the bride, and they prevented the elopement on Sunday evening, but while they were absent from home Tuesday the daughter telephoned to the young man of her choice that the coast was clear, and he was soon at the home with the automobile, and they lost no time in making their escape. REVENUE LOST BY OUSTING SALOONS

Will Be Made Up, in Part, at Wabash by the Licensing of All the Theaters.

Wabash, Ind., May 28.—The city council, at its meeting held last night, instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance providing for the licensing of all of the theaters in the city, leaving the price of the license blank, and present it at the next meeting.

The city will receive no revenue from the saloons in the future and the deficit must be made up in some manner either by taxation or by licensing the amusements. The city will lose $5,600 this year because of the fact that the city was voted "dry." $5,200 of this amount being lost because no licenses could be granted and the remaining amount being incurred by the local option election.

The matter will be brought up again at the next meeting of the council and no doubt the proprietors of the amusement theaters in this city will be present to present their objections and endeavor to prevent the passage of the new ordinance.

Van Wert, O., May 28.—Two or more chicken thieves visited the home of F. Seigel, of the Jennings road, about 10 o'clock at night and before their presence was discovered they had taken fifty of Mr. Seigel's finest Rhode Island Reds. The thieves evidently had come in a rig prepared for their night's work, but just as they were ready to depart the chickens began to make a racket, which aroused Mr. Seigel, who ran to the coops with a shotgun in his hand; as he neared them he could see the form of a man disappearing in the darkness, but a command to halt punctuated with four loads from the shotgun only added to the thiefs speed. NEW TYPE INTERURBAN CAR.

Traction Company Tries Out Improved Lighting System.

The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company today put into service on its lines a new type of interurban car which is said to express the last word in interurban car construction. Its lighting system is the newest and the wiring is made in conduit which is a great improvement over the old method of laying the wires bare under the floors. The lighting in the car is so perfect that a nearly white light is given without causing the slightest glare. The lamps are 50-watt, 40-candle power tungstens, with frosted bulbs and white shades, this combination producing a soft white light. The new car is 62 feet long and contains an improved type of seats. The trucks are the best made by the Baldwin Locomotive works.

The Colonel in Court

It is solely the personality of the plaintiff, of course, that invests with unusual interest the legal proceedings at Marquette in which Colonel Roosevelt is seeking judgment for damages under the libel law against a Michigan newspaper which charged that the former president is addicted to over-indulgence in liquor. When all is said, however, it is difficult to see wherein any good purpose is to be served by the spectacle.

Regardless of the view which the jury may hold, the American people know that Colonel Roosevelt is not a drunkard. Of this fact they have entertained no doubt, and it did not require an array of distinguished witnesses to vindicate the former president in the popular mind. What they did not know, perhaps, is the precise quantity and variety of liquors consumed by the colonel, and at what places and under what circumstances they were used. All this the distinguished plaintiff has set forth under oath down to the minutest detail, enumerating days, dates, places, quantities and varieties of liquid indulgence covering many years of his public and private life. There will be those who have regarded Colonel Roosevelt as something very nearly a model in all things to whom his admission of any indulgence in liquor whatever will come as indicating feet of clay upon a popular idol. Others, measuring the colonel's achievements with his habits, will find ample justification for what they conceive to be a "temperate" use of liquors in their own individual cases.

It is the fate of public men to be often maligned. Colonel Roosevelt has assuredly been subjected to his share of this sort of thing. He is not thin-skinned, and he has been the subject of attacks vastly more vicious than the one which prompted the filing of the present suit. The stress of a bitter political campaign is doubtless to be charged with responsibility for both the editor's charge and the legal action which has followed it. After it is all over, nobody will be the gainer. If he wins, the ex-president will have at best only a "vindication" which he did not need in the opinion of the general public. His place is too secure to be affected by the decision of a jury, one way or the other.

The senate has by a sweeping vote accepted the Kern resolution for an investigation into conditions in the West Virginia coal mining regions, which include charges of peonage and a long list of other law violations attendant upon the strikes there. The action has been foreseen for some time. West Virginia authorities and mining interests themselves made the adoption of the resolution certain by their bitter opposition to the turning on of the light.

After four saloonless years, Jackson township has sidled over to the "wet" side of the line by a majority of nine votes in the option election on Tuesday. It will perhaps require about two years of a return to the saloon to convince Jackson township folk by illustrative contrast how much better off they were without the liquor shops.

The election of Mr. Marttene, of Fort Wayne, as president of the Piano Merchants' Association of Indiana, is clearly a demonstration that the piano men knew precisely where to come to secure a competent head for their association.

EDUCATION A SERIOUS BUSINESS.

(Kansas City Times.)

In one of his Kansas City talks President Lowell of Harvard university condemned the custom, once more prevalent than now, of sending young persons to college as simply a good place for them to while away a few years. "We are making education a serious business," he said.

As it is true of privately endowed schools, such as Harvard, that a student who does not take his work seriously has no right to crowd out some other student who would work with earnest purpose, so it is more important that a university supported by general revenues should be no place for an idler or one who has no serious regard for education. It is fine that the big educators are more and more insisting on such standards for the university students.

A concrete illustration of the point involved is this: At many of our state and privately endowed colleges are Japanese and Chinese students, sent by their home governments to be trained for certain services. The people who are taxed to support those youths get their money's worth, if the students make good. They would be cheated if the youths merely had a good time and acquired a smattering of learning that would do no one good.

Well, young American men and women are provided with university facilities by the public upon no other proper theory than that they shall be of use to the public. They have a direct responsibility to the public. Those in charge of the universities have a direct responsibility.

And it is upon this theory that the universities in general are proceeding in this day. In the case of the state universities the people's purses are being more liberally opened because the people are getting results in service from the universities. And this, not only from the universities themselves, but from the individual citizens who are graduated by the universities. If there are drones in such a school there is something wrong; for to that extent the public is paying for something that it does not get.

CAN'T STAND PROSPERITY.

(Grand Rapids Press.)

It is a pathetically familiar story which a Kansas City stone mason, now a rich contractor, relates in his answer to his wife's divorce suit. As wealth increased in this home love decreased. With money pouring in the old companionship between the couple was lost. How far they have drifted apart is told by the fact that their troubles have finally reached the court stage.

It very often happens that prosperity is the worst thing for certain individuals. Many who can stand the strain of limited means are utterly unable to face the altered conditions brought about by increased resources. Their standards of life change, their manners change, their way of looking at those about them change. Usually the difference is not for the better.

Homes that are solid pillars of all that is wholesome and good sometimes fall to pieces under the disheartening influence of wealth. The necessity of saving, of making the most of every dollar, of living modestly, of pulling together for the common welfare binds man and wife together. With no incentive for economy, with no desponsibility toward the future, with a new leisure which neither are educated to use advantageously bonds made fast by years of mutual effort are first slackened and then are severed.

It is only the strong man or woman who can face radically changed conditions of life and remain level-headed. If the rise is gradual the individual has a chance to adjust the personality to the new status. When it is too sudden the plain instincts of common sense frequently are ignored; pride, self-indulgence, greatly inflated notions of one's importance, arrogance, and petulance manifest themselves.

Some people, instead of asking providence for wealth, should ask to be delivered from it. It is meat for the strong and poison for the weak. After all the chief aim of life is happiness; happiness frequently is achieved on an absurdly small total of this world's goods.

WILL CLEAN OUT SLUMS.

Washington, May 28.—Washington slums will be cleaned out if the influence and active work of the white house family count for anything. Mrs. Wilson has made several quiet trips of inspection through the capital's unsightly alleys and yesterday she joined other prominent women, including the wives of several senators and representatives, in attending a meeting of the women's department of the National Civic Federation. The letter was read from President Wilson approving the movement of wiping out disreputable alleys and providing sanitary homes at low rentals for the poor.

THIS HIGH-SALARIED ACTRESS IS NEVER SEEN BY HER AUDIENCE.

MISS KATE SNELL.

Here's a young woman who is an accomplished actress of an entirely different kind than any of the stage and film folks you have read about.

She has never been seen by an audience, yet she has entertained more than a million people during the last few years with the Lyman H. Howe Travel Festival organization.

Rather a strange role for a pretty girl, aged 22, with ability to act, sing and even play the piano, isn't it? A mighty profitable one, too.

Her name is Miss Kate Snell. She is the first and only individual with ability to "talk" moving pictures of travel. The Howe entertainment produces scenes from all parts of the world.

Native women of all classes from all parts of the world appear on the Howe screen, calling for many tongues from Miss Snell, who works back of the curtain.

"She's equal to almost every situation that appears in the varied programs, imitating the language of the characters so well that no one but a native could detect mistakes. She sings well, too, and Lew Fields recently offered her a position in one of his musical shows, which added to her ability to separate a very comfortable salary from my receipts," declared Howe, exhibitor of the pictures.

CURRENCY LAWS PLAN DEVELOPS

Administration's Policy is Being Shaped Into Statute Rapidly.

OWEN FRAMING BILL

BY GILSON GARDNER.

Washington, May 28.—The administration's plans for currency legislation are going forward. Senator Owen has completed a bill which is believed to contain the essentials of President Wilson's wishes on this subject. The principal feature of the Owen bill is a provision which is intended to lodge the control of the banking and currency system in the government of the United States. This is to be brought about by the appointment of a board of seven governors, at the head of which is the secretary of the treasury, and associated with him the controller of the currency. The rest of the board will be appointed by the president and are described as "experts in commerce, transportation and manufacturing."

The bill provides for the mobilization of bank reserves in incorporated banks which are to be under the direct authority and supervision of the government board. These banks are to be the centers of districts, formed around existing commercial and financial centers such as New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Atlanta, New Orleans, Kansas City, Denver, Minneapolis, San Francisco and Portland. The reserve banks would have the authority to issue emergency currency in the form of United States notes redeemable in gold on demand at any of the reserve banks, or at the treasury of the United States. These notes would be a first lien upon assets of the reserve banks and would be backed further by commercial paper set apart in the vaults as special security. The reserve banks, according to this plan, would be government depositories, and from this source they would receive about two hundred million dollars. In addition, they would hold the reserve now held in other national banks, amounting to seven hundred million, so that the cash resources of these reserve banks it is estimated would be one billion one hundred million, which could be used for discount of commercial paper, or for the putting out of emergency currency in case of stringency. This currency would, of course, be subject to a graduated tax calculated to drive the issue back as soon as the emergency had ceased to exist.

President Wilson's own bill, as it might be called, is not yet ready for the public. Recently the president told newspaper correspondents that a friend of his, a professor of economics in one of the universities, was at work on a bill at the request of the president, which would in due time be made the basis for discussion. The president declined to make public the name of the political economist. "That would make him the object of as many letters on this subject as I receive," said the president jokingly. "The poor man ought to be protected from such a calamity. He has no stenographers or official force of secretaries to handle his mail for him, nor any special appropriation for postage."

There have been many guesses as to who this friend is, but none of them have been confirmed.

H. Parker Willis, formerly a professor at the University of Virginia, is the author of the Glass bill. He was retained by the Glass committee as an expert on the subject in the closing days of the last session.

Mr. Owen will ask for hearings on his bill at an early date.

A simultaneous reduction in the price of lobster salad on the Pacific coast and of Salmon on the Atlantic coast, is the plan of Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who is strong on plans for reducing the cost of living.

The Pacific coast is to be supplied with more lobsters—the salt water kind. The secretary has approved a scheme recommended by the commissioner of fisheries, which, if successful, will be of great practical benefit to the whole country, and of especial benefit to New England and the Pacific coast states.

The plan covers the introduction and acclimatization of the eastern lobster on the Pacific coast. The project has been under consideration at various times for many years, but Mr. Redfield is the first secretary to put it into operation. It is proposed to utilize for this purpose the female lobsters which have served their purpose at the New England hatcheries, supplementing them with a supply of males and of egg-bearing females; making several car-load shipments each season, and depositing them in some definite locality whose suitability has been determined in advance.

While the New England lobsters are being planted in the Pacific in an endeavor to increase the fish food supply of the western country, a reciprocal effort will be made to introduce one or two species of Pacific salmon on the New England coast. As a result of this reciprocity arrangement between the east and west, the secretary hopes that the price of sea food for both sections may be materially reduced.

Hist! June Brides and Grooms; This Preacher Will Marry You for Nothing!

REV. ALMER PENNEWELL.

Oak Park, Ill., May 27.—The Rev. Almer Pennewell, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Methodist church, will hereafter accept no marriage fees. Weddings will be as free as air, so far as he is concerned. And he is the pioneer in a movement to abolish wedding fees everywhere.

But don't rush all at once to Oak Park to get married. For the Rev. Mr. Pennewell will marry no elopers and no couples that he knows nothing about. Moreover, he is likely to ask such embarrassing questions as these:

"How is your moral and physical health?"

"Have you a doctor's certificate guaranteeing your fitness for wedlock?"

And if you can't satisfy the pastor on that score the wedding bells of his church will not ring for you.

The Rev. Pennewell is very much in earnest about these matters.

"The purity and dignity of the institution of marriage are threatened by the present system," he says.

"The pastor who accepts a wedding fee is grafting. It has always been distasteful to me and I've decided to stop it. I have just told my congregation so and they seem to like the idea.

"Other ministers, though, don't take to it readily. I haven't been able, so far, to persuade any of them to join me in this reform. Some preachers even try to drum up trade by encouraging engaged people to come to them for the wedding ceremony and by having license clerks, etc., steer couples to them.

"If the church proposes to regard the marriage rite as a religious function peculiarly its own, it must make the rite free to all to preserve the self-respect of the ministry and dignity of the rite itself.

"It should be as much the minister's duty to perform marriage ceremonies as to visit the sick, conduct prayer services, perform baptisms and preach at funerals.

"No minister should accept a fee for any of these services. If he doesn't need it he should be ashamed to take it, and if his salary isn't big enough for him to live on without such graft his congregation should be ashamed and make it adequate.

"Everything savoring of the commercial spirit must be removed from the marriage ceremony if we would have it attain the proper dignity and solemnity. And when parties to a marriage feel that the minister is present solely as the representative of the most high God the ceremony will be more sacred than if the bridegroom is thinking of the greenbacks in his vest pocket."

The pastor is also a pioneer in his community in his efforts to insure the moral and physical fitness of brides and grooms. He declares positively that, while he will marry people free of charge, he must be satisfied, in every case, that they are free from disease or taint that should bar them from wedlock.

He has also written a new marriage ritual that he will use hereafter for his tipless, hygienic weddings. It is simple, straightforward and dignified and expresses divine approval of the union based on such moral and physical health.

WANT THE BOARD TO START EARLY

State Street Residents Will Present Petition Soon.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS

Residents of State street between the Rudisill bridge and Florida drive want early action on the improvements that they are seeking and will present a petition at once to the board of public works, having succeeded last night at the city council meeting in taking the control of the thoroughfare from the park board.

Speaking for the park board at the meeting Col. D. N. Foster stated that he and his associates asked only that action be deferred until Saturday as at that time a hearing would be granted and if it was shown at the meeting that the majority was against the boulevard scheme he would readily concur in a resolution to restore the street to the board of works.

Rev. J. K. Waits tried to interrupt him, but was compelled twice to resume his seat and later stated the side of the property owners. Councilman Wagner objected to hearing his speech and it was necessary to suspend the rules to give him the privilege of the floor. On the final vote Wagner and Van Sweringen voted against the measure.

The committee on claims refused to pay $750 for Mathias Snyder, who was run down by the fire chief answering a call. He was held to blame for the accident. An ordinance appropriating $200 to buy four bicycles for the health officers was passed and the mayor was given permission to sell the Derbyshire house.

The special committee on street car service reported that the board of public safety had promised to enforce the ordinances and Controller Cutshall presented his quarterly report which will be printed in detail in the regular proceedings.

TERRE HAUTE MAN HELD AS SLAYER

Emil Ehrmann Slaps Girl; Then Kills Man Who Resents Action.

ANGRY MOB GATHERS

Terre Haute, Ind., May 28.—Drawing a revolver and placing the muzzle within three inches of his alleged adversary's heart, Emil Ehrmann, proprietor of the Ehrmann Manufacturing company, shot and instantly killed Edward Wade, a teamster, late yesterday afternoon at 401 Wabash avenue. The tragedy was the direct result of labor troubles that have affected the Ehrmann plant since January.

According to eyewitnesses, Ehrmann was having an altercation with one of the women strikers who were standing on picket around the Ehrmann overall factory when Wade, a teamster employed by the Bement Rea company as a driver, sought to interfere.

Wade's interference came at a juncture when Ehrmann, it is alleged, had slapped the woman on the face.

Make Lynching Threats.

When Wade approached Ehrmann and remonstrated, Ehrmann without further talk, is said to have drawn a revolver from his pocket and killed Wade.

The shooting created a furore along Wabash avenue and a crowd, estimated at 3,000, quickly surrounded the Ehrmann factory, hurling threats of lynching at both Emil Ehrmann and Frederick A. Reckert, secretary and general manager of the company.

Police Sergeant Charles Smith and a detachment of police arrived in the emergency auto patrol and placed both Ehrmann and Reckert under arrest. So intense was the feeling against the two men that the police had to use extreme precaution to prevent a lynching.

Reckert and Ehrmann were spirited through a rear door of the factory into the police patrol which was surrounded by a cordon of police and were hurried away to jail.

Asserts Self-Defense.

Ehrmann, at the jail, admitted that he shot and killed Wade, but declared he shot in self-defense. This declaration, however, is in direct conflict with stories told last night by eye witnesses to the shooting, who say that Wade was killed deliberately and without provocation.

Ehrmann is charged with murder in the first degree. Reckert, who also was put under arrest and sent to jail, is being held under a charge of suspicion of murder.

The shooting is an outgrowth of a strike by the women employes of the Ehrmann Overall company. The strike was declared on early in January, the women maintaining that the company, through Reckert, had devised a new schedule of wages which was equivalent to a reduction in wages.

Trouble Dates to January.

Since January the strike has continued, the girls posting pickets around the factory daily and making repeated efforts to induce the few women strike breakers to leave Ehrmann's employ. The local Central Labor union has been backing the girl strikers.

Reckert, the general manager of the factory, at different times complained to the police regarding alleged unfair tactics employed by the striking women, and less than a week ago announced his intentions of closing the factory and leaving Terre Haute. Reckert is the president of the board of park commissioners.

Fear of mob violence caused Max Ehrmann, well-known author and brother of the man who committed the murder, and Fred Reckert, jr., son of the manager, to appeal to the police for protection.

They were taken to their homes by the police and they asked that a guard be thrown about the house. This last appeal was denied by the police. Young Reckert also was fearful that an attempt would be made to break down the jail and lynch both Ehrmann and Reckert.

Adopt Supplemental Resolutions on Social Service Problems.

Detroit, Mich., May 28.—Supplementing the report of its committee on social service, which was adopted several days ago, the Northern Baptist convention today adopted a further resolution in that direction.

The resolutions call for prison reform to the end that the treatment of prisoners "shall be reformative rather than retributive"; request the secretary of the navy to allow the cadets at Annapolis to attend the church of their choice; commend the action of the American Baptist Home Mission society in establishing a department of labor evangelism and "rejoice that the action has the endorsement of the largest labor unions in the country."

The report of the committee on coordination of Baptist bodies using various languages, submitted today, showed that there are 1,033 churches and missions of non-English speaking Baptists in the United States, with an aggregate church membership of 70,543. There are 913 Bible schools with an aggregate enrollment of 58,608.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 28.—The south wing of University hall, the oldest building on University of Michigan campus, was destroyed by fire today. The property loss will amount to several thousands of dollars, the burned part of the building having been used by the mechanical and zoological departments which lost much valuable apparatus. The university treasurer's office was also destroyed.

University hall was built in 1848.

The university water plant was not connected, men having been at work upon it for some time to increase its efficiency. About 3,000 students turned out to fight the blaze and their efforts saved the rest of the building.

BULLETIN.

Marquette, Mich., May 28.—On the question whether Mr. Newett might show that other newspapers published reports that Col. Roosevelt was addicted to excessive drinking and whether individuals heard such reports, the court this afternoon ruled that such evidence cannot be admitted. This was considered by Col. Roosevelt's attorneys as a victory for them, since it will exclude the so-called hearsay evidence as contained in many depositions.

LORD AVEBURY DIES.

London, May 28.—Lord Avebury died today of heart disease after a short illness, at the age of 79 years.

Lord Avebury, formerly Sir John Lubbock, was prominent as a banker, famous as a scientist and popular as an author of nature studies.

As Sir John Lubbock he won great popularity among the working people in 1871, when he succeeded in passing the bank holiday act. This added four national holidays every year to the statute book and these days were for a long time known as "Lubbock" days.

HIDDEN IN FIDDLE MAN GETS AWAY

With a Companion He Escapes Serving in Austrian Militia.

OTHER IN BASS DRUM

Canton, O., May 28.—Peter Cocan, thirty-six years old, was literally carried away by music. He reached Canton from Lisza, Hungary, after crossing the Hungarian border in a huge bass viol on the back of a husky Roumanian disguised as a gypsy musician.

Cocan brought first-hand stories of the war-like preparations of Austria-Hungary for hostilities with Montenegro. He himself was drafted to serve in the army. He was just about to leave for America. He did not want to serve. Efforts to obtain passports failed. Each time he attempted to cross the border he was turned back by the Hungarian soldiers who patrol the frontier.

Determined to come to Canton at all hazards he hit upon the plan of concealing himself in the bass viol. A companion concealed himself in a bass drum. Friends disguised as itinerant musicians carried them over the frontier.

At one time they were stopped by a party of soldiers, who compelled the musicians to play upon the instruments in which Cocan and his companion were concealed. They escaped detection at this time, and after crossing the border they walked several miles to a railroad.

"It was a thrilling experience," said Cocan, who has taken a job in a Canton mill. "As I lay in the big bass viol I could here the musicians parleying with the soldiers. Soon I heard the scraping of strings. They played a popular song. Then the soldiers allowed us to depart over the border in peace and we were safe."

RELIGION BY TALKING MACHINE.

Roselle, N. J., May 28.—For the benefit of those who cannot or will not go to church the Rev. Clarence S. Wood, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church of Roselle, has had a talking machine record made of a church service including choir music and sermon.

Duplicates will be made from this record and the pastor will address himself to the task of getting non-attendants to accept the duplicates as gifts.

NOTHING IS FREE; EVERYTHING COSTS!—A SERMON BY BILLIE BURKE.

"SOME ONE PAYS—"

I'm going to preach a sermon from a text that most of us are always forgetting. The text you will find in your own consciousness if you ever stop to think about the philosophy of right living. It is: "You can't have anything in this world without paying for it."

You will probably say that "the sunshine is free."

Is it?

How about the men that work in the mines and the girls that are employed daily in the crowded sweat shops, men and women who never see the sun from one year to another?

"Surely the fresh air of heaven is free," you affirm.

Let us see.

Roughly speaking, one hundred and eighty thousand people die in the United States every year because, for different reasons, they don't have fresh air.

For love you must pay most of all; pay in sympathy, in interest, in tenderness, in self-sacrifice and constant thoughtfulness.

For health you must be ever paying a continuous tax. You must curb your desires for most luxuries if you would have health. The Sparatans were the finest men physically the world has ever known, but they paid for this fame by giving up all the luxury which made life worth living to the Romans.

Nothing is free in this world. Some one pays for the water we drink, even if they only give the labor that draws the bucket from the well.

For the little sins we commit and the temptations to which we succumb we must pay a thousand times. Remorse stalks always beside us holding out his hand.

No one since the world began has evaded this law of compensation. One must pay, pay, and when we learn that by no circumstances or stretch of money can one get something—anything—and not give something in return there will be much less sin and sorrow in the world.

WONDER IF SHE KNOWS THAT—

When she marries him she must love him.

After she marries him she must study him.

When he is sad cheer him.

When he is cross amuse him.

When he is secretive trust him.

When he is talkative listen to him.

When he is quarrelsome ignore him.

When he is confidential encourage him.

When he is slothful spur him.

When he is noble praise him.

When he is jealous cure him.

When he does her a favor thank him.

When he deserves it kiss him.

She must always let him think she understands him.

But never let him know that she manages him.

Marttene Heads State Piano Men

M. J. MARTTENE.

THE VOGUE FOR BEADS.

The fashion for hand sewn beads has grown to such proportions in feminine dress that an industry has been established to cope with the work. At the fashionable workrooms devoted to dress the bead sewing room is now on the same plane as the embroidery room, inaugurated a few seasons ago, and which gives employment by one well known firm to no fewer than 200 women.

In a large number of the new season's dresses beads alone form the adornment, and the quaint little glistening accessories are introduced in nearly every other embroidery scheme for the 1913 gown or evening cloak. So much so is this the case that the bead manufacturers report that not for many years has the bead making industry been in such a healthy condition.

In every color imaginable the new beads trail their way round dresses of the flimsiest fabric in floral, conventional or zoological fashion. In one design a huge spray of clematis worked entirely in purple beads adorns a gray confection in that shade which is known among the Parisians as gris-souris. The beaded texture falls in tunic style, of course, the folds being brought into the waist with a beaded buckle and belt of satin.

In one gown which is creating much admiration in a certain shop beaded butterflies adorn the skirt, which is made in panier style, and a huge butterfly finishes the front of the bodice. The dress is in gray satin with a long pointed train embroidered heavily in floss, and the same embroidered fabric forms simulated paniers. The butterfly at the waist is beaded on cerise velvet.

BAILHE TRIO GIVES CONCERT

WOMEN'S CHORUS SING

The Bailhe Trio gave its closing concert for its second season last night at the Majestic theater before the largest audience gathered for a recital of chamber music by the Messrs. George and Gaston Bailhe and Nicolai Zedeler, and the work of the Trio in rendering a beautiful program was again more than satisfying for the positiveness of tonality, the correctness of the reading, the perfection of rhythmic expression and the beauty of style in interpretation which the members of the trio display individually and collectively. If there was anything lacking it was that complete sympathy between the performers and the audience which was so marked at the concert given a few weeks ago. Not that the audience of last night was not interested and apparently appreciative, but there were moments when the performers and the audience were not so entirely of one mind in appreciation of the music itself. There was a restlessness in the early part of the program, felt more than really heard, and the audience was not so ready to note the nice discriminations in shading and beauty of tone displayed by the trio. The Brahms number in the opening group, for instance, was beautiful and its beauty would have been still more enjoyed by the second hearing for the trio played it exceedingly well, but the audience waited for the next number, the Mendelssohn "spinning song," played at the preceding concert and demanded an encore of that. Yet it was the familiarity as well as the movement of the song that attracted for the harmonic and melodic beauties of the Brahms were far greater, and the trio played the number better, too. The big work of the trio was a fine reading and conception of the Malling trio, op. 36. The entire work was heard with close attention. The intermezzo and finale movements were as worthy of admiration. The entire work was exceedingly interesting and beautiful. The audience was enthusiastic enough in its applause to bring the players out again for a repetition of the finale movement.

The vocal work of the program was done by the women members of the Fort Wayne Choral society. A chorus of nearly ninety of professional, student and amateur singers under the direction of George Bailhe and wth Miss Helen Spindler at the piano, sang three numbers very well indeed. They displayed excellent disciplining and attacks and endings of phrases were nearly flawless, while there was an astonishing variation in quality of tone and a nice balancing of parts and adherence to pitch that told of an appreciable understanding of what they were doing on the part of the singers themselves. The closing number was encored. The accompaniment of Gaston Bailhe and Mr. Zedeler, with violin and 'cello, as well as the brilliant performance of Miss Spindler, lent variety to the choral work and the audience was delighted.

A city car on West Main street ran into a horse at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at the corner of Main and Broadway. Nobody was injured.

AT THE EMPRESS

Miss Mae Francis, who is appearing at the Empress theater this week in an act of delightful songs and stunning costumes, has signed a contract to sing with one of the Klaw & Erlanger musical comedies the next year. Miss Francis is a niece of former "Detroit Tiger" base ball star, "Wild Bill" Donovan, who is now manager of the Providence club. The dainty little singer's rise in vaudeville has been rapid, having been a professional actress less than two years. It was while a student at Notre Dame college, Philadelphia, that she displayed a fondness for dramatic art and singing and appeared successfully in many amateur minstrel entertainments in her native city. Miss Francis has a big repertoire of songs and is constantly changing her program to suit the fancy of her audiences.

Reserved seats are now selling for all four performances to be given on Friday, Decoration day. There will be two matinees, the first starting at 2 o'clock and the second at 3:30. There will be the usual two shows at night.

AT THE JEFFERSON

If you are a good guesser you have an opportunity of getting some easy money at the Jefferson Friday night. Doris Greenwald, that tiny mite of humanity that is singing, dancing and playing the cornet this week, is the chance. Guess her age, height and weight and you win. You are given a little slip of paper as you enter the theater. Fill out the blank and drop it in the box as you pass out. You can guess as many times as you wish, but you must be in the theater Friday night when the winners are announced. And to make Friday night more interesting a number of amateurs will make their appearance. The pictures for tonight are "A Double Sacrifice," an unusual dramatic, and "Cheating," a very good comedy.

AT THE LYRIC.

Stewart White's tales of the north and west have made this writer a very popular one with all classes and ages of people and none have added to his fame more than his delightful tale, "Ashes of Three," which is pictured into two reels of motion photo-play and is being exhibited at the Lyric this afternoon and evening. Warren Kerrigan appears to advantage as a derelict, in which a rejuvenation takes place through the unbounding love of a mother. It is a powerful, well told story.

Tomorrow is comedy day and the Keystone people will offer another of their funny farces, "The Gangsters." A Reliance film, entitled "Early Oklahoma," will also be seen on this program. Friday, the big three reel Thanhouser, "Carmen," is announced with no advance in prices.

HARD LUCK DAYS FOR LOCAL CLUB

LOPING FOR A CHANGE

Hard luck of the brand passed to the rt Wayne team in the first month of ay rarely sticks around for a whole eason, and Manager Jimmy Burke and his faithful squad that is working with him believe that a change is coming.

In the first place the club had no preparation for the season's work and the n went into the race half trained but a week had rounded into the best looking team Fort Wayne has had in years with the single exception that the pitching staff was weak, with only Tommy Atkins and Grover Young showing any sort of form.

Then Manager James T. Burke was called away by the illness and subsequent death of his wife. Marcus Aurelius McLafferty took his slide to first that injured his knee. La Verne Fabrique stepped on a sliver and was out with a bad foot. Walsh was injured at Springfield and it has been a long time since the club has been able to put a team of regulars on the field.

And that the club had won half of its games up to yesterday, when Rufus Gilbert had that brand of luck that has helped him all season, and pulled the Billikens down to a tie with the Tots and both below the .500 mark.

Louis Loudermilk pitched a much better brand of baseball than did Terre Haute's celebrated southpaw, but he took one wild toss in the seventh that beat him. He breezed Charley Pick in that round and Harry Arndt popped to Tutweiler in center. Wheeler drove the ball at the pitcher and he threw high to first. This gave Anderson, who had opened the inning with a single, a chance to make second. Steve Ragon was chucked into the combat and delivered a single to center that sent the manager over with the sole tally of the afternoon.

Guy Tutweiler, one of the most reliable hitters in the league, had two chances to score runners with a blow but he fell down both times, which illustrates that Gilbert was playing in great luck. With two gone in the first, Roy Keener hit the first ball pitched and reached second on Foley's first error. Anderson struck out with two on.

Tutweiler's best chance was in the fifth when Loudermilk was passed and forced at second on Fabrique's grounder, and Martin and Keener both got transportation, filling the bases. Tutweiler struck out. His second opportunity was in the seventh with Martin on, when he hit a fly to center field.

Frank Nespo was on the job at second base and did some good fielding, but he failed to show with the stick. Keener's hit in the first and one by Atkins in the sixth were the only two clean drives made off Gilbert. The others were infield raps that bounded badly. Fabrique featured the show with a great catch of Anderson's drive in the ninth. The score:

VARNELL FAILED TO GET INFIELDER

Matthews Will Go to Grand Rapids When Coffey Reports.

A LITTLE TOUGH LUCK

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 28—President Claude Varnell, of the Fort Wayne team, a close personal friend of Manager Jack Hendricks, of the Denver team, tried hard to land Infielder Matthews by purchase of his release from the Denver club. The Denver club was unwilling, however, to dispose of Matthews release outright and will keep a promise made over a month ago that it would let the clever young player come to the Grand Rapids club under optional agreement as soon as Captain Coffey reported to the Denver team.

Today President McGill, of the Denver club, telegraphed President Essick, of the Grand Rapids club, that Matthews would leave the Denver team at Des Moines tomorrow so as to arrive in Grand Rapids in time to play in Friday's game. For the last ten days President Essick has been burning the wires between Grand Rapids and Denver in efforts to land Matthews. Both the Sioux City and Topeka clubs of the Western league were after him as well as Fort Wayne and Grand Rapids, the youngster's phenomenal work with Denver all season making him in great demand.

For the last week or ten days Matthews has not been himself, the high altitude of Colorado not agreeing with him, causing his nose to bleed almost constantly and thereby weakening him. It seems that the climate of Colorado, which is often very beneficial to persons in ill health, does not always agree with others who go there in perfect health. The player himself will be glad to get back to lower altitude for the season, having written President Essick to that effect.

When Matthews reports Steil will be held for utility roles, for which he is well qualified, having played every position on the infield except first base, and the outfield as well at various times. He has played splendid ball for a youngster appearing for the first time in company as fast as the Central league, and should not by any means be regarded as a frost because he is being displaced as a regular.

In securing Matthews the Grand Rapids club owners are pursuing the same liberal policy which has shown in all their movements whenever opportunity has arisen to strengthen the team. Matthews is known as a hard and timely hitter, winning several games for the Denver club this season with hits at opportune times. He was with the Ludington club of the Michigan State league last season.

The Cincinnati club of the National league is bidding for a member of the Grand Rapids pitching staff and is willing to pay a good price for his release with immediate delivery. Messrs. Essick and Smith have decided, however, that they will not let any of their stars go in mid-season regardless of what offers are made. For that reason the Reds will not be allowed to strengthen their pitching staff at the expense of the Bill-Eds.

The pitcher whose services are desired is not Jeff Pfeffer, despite the exceptional record made by the big fellow this season.

SEEKING TWO GAMES.

The Crescents challenge the Pearls for a game for Decoration day afternoon, on the Crescent's grounds, and any amateur team for a game Friday morning. Call 3363 blue this evening between 6 and 7.

THESE TWO TICKETS WILL BE GOOD FOR THE NEXT GAME ON THE FORT WAYNE GROUNDS.

Two of the bleacher attendants at yesterday's heart breaker have tickets coming to them for the next game on the Fort Wayne grounds, which will be on June 9 when the Dayton team appears here for the second series of the season. One fellow down in the first row evidently didn't want to be in the photograph as he kept his hands persistently in front of his face and possibly it is due to the fact that he was playing "hookey" for the afternoon and had "skipped" his regular duties to see a ball game.

For the first time since the pictures have been published the two entitled to tickets for the game today had failed to claim them up to late this afternoon. Miss Irene Schafer is the young lady who didn't want to be in the picture published Saturday, and she got her ticket for the Tuesday game as Monday's rain brought about a postponement.

BADE MYERS HAS JUST SUSPICION

Thinks Youngstown is Way Over League's Salary Limit.

LOOKS BIT LIKE IT

Canton, O., May 28.—Manager Bade Myers has a just suspicion that the Youngstown team under Manager Curley Blount is receiving more than the $1,750 a month prescribed by the league rules, and he says he does no tsee how the galaxy of players on the roster can be paid out of the sum set down by the magnates as the maximum salary figure.

Of the eight regulars on the Youngstown team, exclusive of the pitchers, six are hitting better than .300, one is close to that mark and the last is tagging along at even .250. The eight are hitting a fraction over .329 as a whole, which is some figure for any team even when the heaver is not included.

Tommy Sheehan, tow-haired shortstop, is setting the pace for his teammates with a mark of .409 in 22 games, and is batting better every day. In 88 times at bat he has accumulated 36 hits, among them seven doubles and one triple. Sheehan has never been mentioned as timber for the big show, but he is there with the swat in spite of that.

Veteran Hughie Tate is making a strong bid to keep on Sheehan's heels by hitting .380 in 23 games. He numbers among his clouts seven for two bases, two for three and two for the circuit. Boucher claims .367 with 25 hits in 97 times up.

The three outfielders now being used by Blount come next in order, with Wilcox hitting .321, Sheer .309 and Blount himself .303. The trio form some garden group for a minor league team, especially when it is considered that Blount is one of the best waiters and lead-off men out of the majors. Wilcox is a pitcher and is fielding only .642, but his hitting makes up for his lack of skill on the defense.

Price, the high school boy grabbed up from Rayen by Blount, is holding up his end of the attack with .280 and fielding .959 at second base. Catcher Orris is trailing with .250 in the absence of Mully Miller, who can clout around .300 throughout the season.

The Youngstown infield can rank with that of Connie Mack's Athletics in hitting strength—Sheehan, Tate, Boucher and Price hitting .366 as a quartet. With an outfield thumping the ball at a .310 clip and an infield pounding along at .366 it is an easy matter to solve the question of why Blount is leading a winner. In fact, it is no question at all.

Then on top of that these swatsmiths are back of two of the league's best pitchers in Moseley and Ainsworth.

It isn't hard to understand why the Steelmen are perched at the top of the Interstate, or why they will continue to stay there or thereabouts. Sam Lloyd had nothing to do with plating them there.

A glance at the work of the Steelmen with the stick shows the anxious fan why Curly Blount is heading the procession, showing his heels to such teams as the Sailors and the Stogies.

WARREN FOR THE LOCAL OUTFIELD

Claude Varnell May Get Man from Cleveland to Play Left.

TOLEDO HAD PLAYER

Owner Claude H. Varnell left Fort Wayne for Chicago at 5 o'clock this morning and if he is successful in putting through a deal he has on hand Outfielder Warren, now with the Cleveland Americans, will join the Fort Wayne club at Grand Rapids tomorrow.

A message was received here yesterday offering the player and putting a price on his services, but the local owner is wising up a bit on baseball matters and he wants to look the man over and get an agreement to pay for him only if he makes good. He is not haggling on the price but he does not want to pay it unless he is sure he will get a man who will improve the club.

If this man makes the team it will be about complete provided Pitcher Orth can deliver. He was at the park yesterday in uniform, and may get a chance to try out this afternoon if he is in condition to go in.

Getting back to Warren, he came from the Missoula, Mont., team of the Union association, where his work attracted the attention of the Cleveland owners. He hit .319 in 121 games and stole 40 bases. This spring he was sent to Toledo and in twenty games there he hit .357 but turned his ankle and was out a couple of weeks and in the meantime his place was filled.

With this man in left and Frank Nespo at second Fort Wayne ought to be able to gain some of the ground it has lost. Unless it does the owner will try to land some more players.

Mark McLafferty left today for his home at Butler, Pa. His knee is weak but he believes it has improved and that by the time the club gets back from the present trip he will be able to take his place.

HAS WONDERFUL RECORD.

Bill Heer Coming Here to Shoot at Fort Wayne Range.

Bill Heer, who has missed only seventeen of the last 1,140 targets shot at, will be here on Sunday and will appear at the range of the Fort Wayne Gun club at Germania park. This is the most wonderful performance ever put on by any marksman and the members of the club here are tickled to have him on the range. This fact that Heer is coming was received by Al Girardot in a letter from J. M. Barr.

Summer Skin Humours Now Quickly Banished

Eczema, Tetter, Lupus, Pimples, Rash, Boils and All Blood Troubles That Attack the Skin Completely Disappear.

Can't Find a Blemish After Using S. S. S.

Now is the time of year to get quick action on any skin disease. The pores are more active during these early days of summer, and this condition should be taken advantage of. The best remedy is S. S. S., the famous blood purifier.

Its influence in the blood is more healthful, more penetrating, more stimulating, and more productive of noticeable results than anything else ever discovered for the promotion of pure blood.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream, and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S. has such a positive action on the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration. Thus pimples, ache, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily, and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue, and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

It is surprising the amount of real blood purification that is accomplished by a single dose of S. S. S.

This famous remedy has an action unknown to any other. It is made entirely of botanical materials, not drug extracts, but from the native roots, hence contains elements which cannot be obtained in prescriptions or combined in other remedies.

It is not a laxative, does not affect the bowels, and since it is relatively just as essential to well-balanced health as the elements of meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food, it is absorbed at once into the blood vessels and thus promotes a very rapid cleansing influence.

Dr. Westmoreland states that S. S. S. contains one ingredient that serves the active purpose of stimulating the cells of the tissues to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment.

S. S. S., unlike most remedies and prescriptions, contains no "dope," no crude drugs, no mineral drugs. Don't accept something offered you as "just as good." There is only one reason for any one not selling S. S. S., and that is because with crude drugs something else can be made cheaply to sell at a great profit. S. S. S. is prepared only in the laboratory of The Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.

THESE NAPS CUT INTO WALTER JOHNSON'S JOURNEY TOWARD A NEW BASE BALL PITCHING RECORD.

Walter Johnson, speed marvel of the American league, will have to start all over to break the world's record of consecutive victories.

Those surprising Naps from the well known city of Cleveland fractured Johnson's winning record in the ulna bone of some such place as the eleventh spasm and belted the speed marvel about the lot as if he wasn't such-a-much.

The Naps put 13 nicks in the handle of Johnson's gun for five runs, while Bill Steen held the Nationals scoreless. Clarke Griffith, Washington leader, who had insisted the Nans were playing ahead of their form, was speechless. He had used Johnson after losing two out of three games to the Naps, and Johnson looked just like his week day pitchers instead of a week-end special.

Joe Jackson, the Dixie speed marvel; Jack Graney and "Buddy" Ryan had much to do with Johnson's undoing, poling out base hits with abandon and their bats.

If Griff revised his idea about the Cleveland team playing ahead of form he refused to discuss it before leaving Cleveland.

HOLD BURNS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Crown Representatives Plan Vigorous Action at Calgary.

GET MUCH EVIDENCE

Calgary, Alta., May 28. Representatives of the crown who have been conducting the investigation into the death of Luther McCarty, heavy weight champion, who died in the prize ring at the Burns arena Saturday, today are gathering a mass of evidence which will be presented when the cases of Arthur Pelkey and Tommy Burns are called to trial.

That Burns, promoter of the fight in which McCarty met his death, and Pelkey, whose blow in the first few minutes of the initial round resulted in the fatal injury, will have to face trial on the charge of manslaughter, was the principal development that followed the re-arrest of Pelkey yesterday, after a coroner's jury had failed to make any charges against him. Meanwhile, William McCarney and Referee Ed Smith were out on $500 bail each, and ordered to appear as witnesses when the cases are tried.

Another development was the filing by Burns of a suit for criminal libel against a minister of the city, who is alleged to have denounced the promoters of the fight as "murderers who should be deported." Burns said he also would file suit against other ministers who are said to have attacked him in a like manner in their sermons last Sunday.

McCarney and Smith are accompanying McCarty's body to the home of his parents at Piqua, Ohio.

LEFT ESTATE OF $30,000.

Dead Pugilist's Widow Still Holds Her Job in Restaurant.

Chicago, May 28.—Luther McCarty, the heavy-weight boxer killed in his fight with Arthur Pelkey at Calgary on Saturday, left an estate worth $30,000, according to the estimate yesterday of Attorney V. R. Lovell, of Fargo, N. D., who came here in the interest of the fighter's widow.

The lawyer believes McCarty made $100,000 from his fights on the Pacific coast and in the east and his stage appearances, in the last eighteen months. He understands that McCarty was under contract with Billy McCarney, his manager, who received in the neighborhood of one-third of the fighter's earnings.

"McCarty spent considerable traveling and living and I don't think there is much more than $30,000 left," said the lawyer. "This belongs to the widow and the fatherless daughter she has been caring for in Fargo for the last two years. Mrs. McCarty still works in a restaurant there. So far as we know McCarty did not leave a will."

ARRAIGNMENT ON FRIDAY.

Ehrmann and Reckert Are Brought Into Court at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., May 28. The formal arraignment of Emil E. Ehrmann, local manufacturer, and Frederick Reckert, manager of the Ehrmann overall plant, was postponed until Friday, when the men were brought into court today to face the charge of killing Edward Wade, a teamster, as the outgrowth of a strike of girl garment workers at the plant. Both men were remanded to jail without bond, although Ehrmann admits the shooting. An effort to gain the release of Reckert was defeated by the prosecutor, who declared he should be held until investigation discloses what part, if any, Reckert had in the shooting. Reckert had the smoking revolver in his hand when the police entered the plant after the shooting, but he says the weapon was handed to him by his employer.

WILL BE TESTED IN COURTS.

New York's School Board's Anti-Marriage Rule is Under Fire.

New York, May 28.—The board of education's ruling that teachers may not marry and become mothers is to be tested in the courts, according to announcement today by counsel for Mrs. Bridget M. F. Peixotto, charged with "neglect of duty" in marrying without the board's knowledge and reporing ill when her baby was born.

When Mrs. Peixotto was married in February, 1912, she failed to tell the board about it, fearing that under its ruling she would lose her position as principal of public school No. 14. The fact of her marriage was not learned by the board until a few days ago, after she had been on sick leave for six weeks and had been a mther four weeks. She was at once charged with neglect of duty and is to be given a trial by the board shortly. .

It adds: "The multiplication of social functions and their increasing expense is becoming a serious problem in under graduate life."

JUDGE WILL TRY APPEALED CASES

Says It is Unfair to City Court to Allow Them to Die.

OTHER COURT MATTER

"It is not fair to Judge Frank Mungovan of the city court to permit appealed cases to die in the circuit court and all of them will be tried hereafter," said Judge John W. Eggeman in the circuit court today.

"It has been the custom to appeal where hard contests are made and then take chances on the cases not being tried in this court. This will not be permitted in the future and they will be disposed of just as rapidly as the law will permit."

In aggravated cases where heavy punishments have been deserved and imposed in the city court appeals have resulted in delaying trials until the matters had been practically forgotten and then nominal fines were imposed and the cases disposed of. Judge Eggeman's stand will not admit of this and the only delay will be under the statute that prevents the trial of any appealed cases during the particular term of court in which the appeal is taken.

On June 5 the following cases will be called and either disposed of at once or set for trial: David B. Walters and Otto Pomper, for operating gambling house; David W. Brothers, public intoxication; Edward Heine, forgery; Glenn Ramsey, embezzlement; Enos Powers, rape; Richard Brown, receiving stolen goods; Pearl Everding, pointing a deadly weapon; Onida Miller, operating house of ill-fame; Charles Carter, obtaining money under false pretense; John Doe, assault and battery; Charles Martin, provoke; George Williams, assault and battery.

Prosecutor Harry H. Hilgemann is in hearty accord with the position taken by the judge and will insist that the rule be adhered to.

Wife Gets Property.

Under his will Henry Krumbigle left all his property to his wife, Susanne, and if any is left at her death it is to go to their son George.

Lewis S. Richardson has entered suit for divorce against Sarah Richardson, alleging that she cursed him, refused to cook his meals and accused him falsely of attentions to other women. McAdams & Hartzell are his attorneys.

Wants Child Kept Here.

Thomas Davis, a letter carrier living on Lake avenue, has asked the circuit court to modify a restraining order so that his divorced wife, Laura Davis, can not take their child to California where she prospnses to go. She was given custody of the child at the time of the decree. Phil B. Colerick represents him.

Lafayette, Ind., May 28.—Three thousand Elks of Indiana marched in the parade of the twelfth annual convention of the Indiana Elks' association in session here. Nearly a thousand women, many of them wives of the visiting delegates, viewed the parade from the porches of the Lincoln and Lafayette clubs.

The line of march was through the downtown streets to the ferry, where the Elks crossed the river to go to Purdue university to witness the baseball game between Indiana and Purdue.

DEMOCRATS HAVE LOTS OF TIMBER

Seabold Wants to Land Hard on Councilman-At-Large Nomination.

THE REGISTRATION

Following the meeting of the platform committee of the city democratic central committee, held Tuesday night, announcement is made that the democrats are to have still another candidate for councilman-at-large in the person of Louis Seabold, a well known party worker and prominent about the county. The democrats are apparently experiencing but little difficulty in securing councilmanic candidates and City Chairman Guy Colerick says that things are rapidly taking on definite shape for the primaries.

The platform committee submitted a brief draft of the proposed platform for the forthcoming campaign, but it will not be acted upon by the candidates and committee as a whole for at least another week.

Judge B. W. Skelton, chairman of the republican committee, says that his party will not take up the platform question for some time, and also announces the fact that no new republican candidates have appeared over the horizon so far this week. The judge is confident, however, that his ticket will be completed in ample time for the candidates to do all the preliminary campaign work that is necessary.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the registration question and many have addressed inquiries concerning the date for registration for the city election.

Under the new law there will be but one official registration period for the city election, and this will be held twenty-nine days before the election, or on October 6. If an earlier registration is desired one may be held September 6, if a petition asking for it is signed by 300 or more voters. If any voter is sick, out of the city or in any way unable to go to the polls on registration day, he is allowed the privilege of registering by affidavit.

This warm weather is spreading slowly eastward, and warmer weather is general this morning from the Rockies eastward to the Mississippi. Rains have occurred over the Atlantic coast states since yesterday morning, but fair weather has prevailed over most of the central portions of the country. A storm appears to be developing in the extreme west but as yet it has given only light scattered showers.

It is not probable that the western storm will reach this section before Thursday night or Friday, and fair and warmer weather is indicated for this section for tonight and Thursday.

NEW METHOD OF PAYING EMPLOYES

G. R. & I. Paymaster to Hand Out Cash to the Pennsy Shopmen.

PAYMASTER CAME TOO FREQUENTLY

For Levi Dohney, of Pierceton, and He Resigned His Position.

A new system of conducting the semi-monthly pay days on the Pennsylvania and the Grand Rapids and Indiana roads, at least so far as Fort Wayne is concerned, will be inaugurated in June. It involves a division of the work between Paymaster R. G. Cramp, of the Pennsylvania, and Paymaster J. A. Roe, of the G. R. & I. Beginning with the first pay day in June Mr. Cramp will pay all employes of the Pennsylvania company at this point except the men connected with the shops. These will receive their wages from Mr. Roe. Both paymasters will be in the city at the same time and it is believed they can complete their work in two days. Orders have been given to have the pay rolls covering the last half of May completed and placed in the hands of the paymasters on the night of June 2 and they will start upon the cash distributing tour the following morning. T. H. B. McKnight, treasurer of the Pennsylvania company, was last winter made treasurer of the Grand Rapids and Indiana company also and as paying the employes comes within his jurisdiction, he conceived and will put in operation the new system, believing that it will be an improvement over the old system. The paymasters will be in Fort Wayne Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

TOO MANY PAY DAYS.

Levy Dohner Resigned Because the Car Came Twice a Month.

The majority of the employes of the Pennsylvania company look upon the semi-monthly pay day as a bad feature, preferring to receive their earnings in greater bulk once a month, but it remained for Levy Dohner to emphasize his objections to the system by turning in his resignation with the statement that:

"It is bad enough to hang around the depot once a month, waiting for the paymaster, but when it comes to doing it twice a month and receiving half the amount each time formerly received, I can't stand it. I hereby tender my resignation, effective at once."

Mr. Dohner was employed by the Pennsylvania company to carry the United States mail from the company's depot to the postoffice in Pierceton, for which service he received $5 per month. This sum was split in two and handed out in $2.50 lots twice a month when the new system became effective. The postal laws of the United States make it compulsory on the part of the railway carrying the mails to deliver it at the postoffices in all cases where the latter is within 1,200 feet of the railway station. Otherwise the expense falls upon the government. The postoffice at Pierceton is within the 1,200 feet limit and hence the delivery by an agent of the company. A boy recommended by Mr. Dohner is now the successor of the latter.

REVISING CABLE SYSTEM.

Important Change at Pennsylvania Power Station.

One of the improvements now in progress at the Pennsylvania shops is a revision of methods of wiring the shops and plant. Every high or low tension lead from the power plant will be under ground when the improvements have been completed. The men engaged in the work will complete it on the east side of the power plant this week and will immediately take up the work on the west side. On the west side of the power plant the cables will be carried to the machine shop through underground conduits and thence upwards through manholes into potheads and on steel poles to the shops west of Lafayette street. This work will require three or four weeks.

VIOLATED RULE 108.

Some Nickel Plate Men Visited Saloons and Lost Jobs.

One of the rules governing the conduct of Nickel Plate employes forbids them going into saloons and as a result of violation, some of the conductors and brakemen on the Eastern division and one on the west end are out of employment. Whether the dismissal is permanent or merely temporary, as a reprimand, remains to be seen, but the men were informed that their services were no longer needed. So far as could be learned, only one Fort Wayne man was affected, but residents of Bellevue and Conneaut were hard hit, it being reported that seventeen of them were let out of the service. The incident caused considerable excitement in the ranks of the trainmen. They will probably take no chances in that way.

LOOKING OVER THE FIELD.

Pennsylvania Industrial Agent Makes Tour of Factories.

Ralph W. Cooke, industrial agent for the Pennsylvania company and the Panhandle, made a tour of the industrial plants and factory sites in Fort Wayne today. He was the guest while in the city of Division Freight Agent E. T. Wood and in the trip through the industrial districts this morning was accompanied by that gentleman and Supt. W. M. Wardrop and Division Engineer Guy Scott. Yesterday, in company with some of the division officials, Mr. Cooke visited some of the leading cities between Crestline and Fort Wayne, chief among which were Lima and Bucyrus, and made notes of their facilities in the way of fractory sites and inducements to manufacturers who seek locations.

SURPRISED THEIR SHOPMATE.

Yesterday was the anniversary of G. J. Magers, of the Nickel Plate round house, and the shopmates of that gentleman gave him a surprise in honor of the anniversary and had a most enjoyable evening. The amusements included cards in which W. C. Cherry and R. M. Rainey were the winners of the prizes and refreshments were served. Among the guests were General Foreman C. L. Cooper, H. H. Kohrman, H. Krush, W. E. Kendal, C. J. Boughers, L. F. Merrilat, Wm. Bischoff, W. A. Hosler, F. J. Swinehart, W. C. Cherry, R. W. Swinehart, R. M. Rainey, D. C. Rall, S. Bailey, S. Bears, Geo. Keiger, C. Pritchard, E. A. Goelling, F. Pite, F. X. Magers and J. Wernkler.

TWO MEN INJURED.

Personal injuries at the Fort Wayne Electric works this morning that required attention from Dr. Schultz, the company's surgeon, happened to Ralph Teeples and William Kemp. Mr. Teeples, who is employed in the armature department, had the ball of his right thumb cut to the bone when it came in contact with a saw. Mr. Kemp received his injury from the corner of one of the pieces of sheet metal he was handling in the punch department. The sharp piece cut a gash in the palm of his right hand. Neither man is seriously hurt.

CULVER BUSINESS NEXT WEEK.

Frank P. Parnan and Clyde A. Pritchard, of the Nickel Plate, will be in Culver next Wednesday and Thursday looking after business arising out of the closing of the spring term of the military school at that place. The Pennsylvania will also have representatives there to work in conjunction with the Vandalia. The latter line gets most of the north and south business and the Pennsylvania the greater portion of the westbound business, while the Nickel Plate gets a big share of the eastbound business and it is this that Messrs. Parnan and Pritchard will look after.

LANDSLIDE AT HARRISON STREET.

The rains Monday softened the earth on the elevated tracks at Harrison street and some time that night a landslide which partly undermined the north track of the Wabash occurred. The Pennsylvania has excavated under its tracks for the Harrison street subway and the landslide carried a lot of the Wabash right of way down into the excavation.

RAISING WABASH TRACKS.

The Wabash has trains in service hauling gravel to this city for raising the tracks east of Fairfield avenue to the proper level. There is considerable of a dip between Calhoun street and Fairfield avenue and this is to be eliminated. A large force of men was brought from Peru yesterday and put at work tamping the gravel under the ties.

GOING TO VISIT PARENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dunlap left today for Rochester, Pa., where they will spend a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dunlap, an aged couple who resided in that city a half-century. Mr. Dunlap is the assistant baggagemaster at the Pennsylvania station in Fort Wayne.

BILLY FOSLER RECOVERS.

William A. Fosler, foreman of the mechanical department of the Nickel Plate round house, will resume that duty tomorrow. Several weeks ago he lost a part of a finger and the digit has not fully recovered, yet Mr. Fosler believes it will not interfere with work.

KEKIONGA TO ENTERTAIN.

The Kekionga Aid society of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors will be entertained at Unity hall Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Matott, Mrs. Caskey and Mrs. Tyler will be the hostesses.

ANOTHER SWITCH CREW AT WORK

Conductor J. McLain and Engineer F. Davis have been assigned to yard service at the Lake Shore yards. The company has found it necessary to add another crew and engine to the force.

George A. Frei, assistant superintendent at the General Electric Lamp works, delivered a lecture on "Methods of Manufacturing Mazda Lamps" at the meeting of the club last night. The attendance was good and the interest displayed indicated appreciation of the lecture.

F. S. Hicks, who lost a toe and had a foot otherwise injured five weeks ago, called at the Pennsylvania copper shop yesterday to see his shopmates. He has to use a crutch to get about, but is making good progress towards recovery and will be able to leave the hospital in a week or two. It will be some time, however, before he can report for work.

Instant Postum

Is in thousands of homes where health is valued.

Former coffee users who have felt the pinch of indigestion, headache, heart disturbance, nervous irritation, etc., have written by the score, telling of remarkable benefits following the change from coffee to Instant Postum.

A level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water dissolves instantly and makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

"Thanks for the sample of Instant Postum sent me. I had been drinking coffee for a long time and thought it would be difficult to give it up, but I was mistaken.

MEN WHO MADE ARMATURES AT THE FORT WAYNE ELECTRIC WORKS FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Here is the oldest picture of Fort Wayne armature winders in existence today. It represents the entire force in that department of the local Electric works at that time and eight of the men whose portraits are in the picture—John Horstman, Nelson Bucher, J. B. Mills, W. J. Murphy, Harry Beers, Jesse Birely, Frank Closs and Thomas Quinn—are still employed at the works, though in different capacities. Reading from the left to the right the personnel of the men represented is as follows: Top row—John Horstman, Charles Brocking, Nelson Buecher, John Hilgeman, Larry Lichtenwalter, Henry Crawford, J. B. Mills and John Pecham. Second or middle row—Philip Lordier, sr., Alza Swank, Charles Majors, William J. Murphy, Charles Holberstot, Harry Beers, William Real, Jesse Birely, Maurice Archibald, Philip Lordier, jr., and Thomas Quiliman. Third or bottom row—U. S. Meeks, Frank Closs, John Cress Louis Fryer, Thomas Quinn and Frank Geiger.

A Specialist's Advice to MEN

—who are contaminated by enervating disease of the genito-urinary system, is worth far more than any other advice you can obtain. I have these cases every day. I have dozens of them every week, and hundreds and hundreds of them during a year. From long experience with every phase of such disease and its progress in every kind and condition of man, young, middle-aged and old, I can tell you exactly what is best to do. The average physician sees these cases very infrequently. The majority of those within reach of my office come here and prefer to come here rather than go to the family physician, and this is reasonable, for I devote my entire time and attention to special diseases in men. If you have Nervous Debility, Weakness, Lost Vigor, Drains, Losses, Varicocele, Hydrocele, Blood Poison, Ulcers, Stricture or related disease—all of which are disastrous to man's nervous system and constitution—come to SEE ME.

PRETTY GIRLS IN PLOT TO SWINDLE RICH MEN BY MATRIMONY.

ANITA JOHNSON AND INSET PHOTO OF OLGA WURST, WHO ARE DECLARED TO BE THE RINGLEADERS IN A "CUPID" SWINDLING DEAL.

San Francisco, Cal., May 28.—A letter from an attorney in Cheyenne, Wyo., received by the police recently, led to an investigation of the operations of several men and women to determine whether or not they have conspired to marry young women to rich old men for the purpose of swindling.

Anita Johnson, with several others, is now being held at the city prison pending the investigation.

Charles Lane, the Cheyenne attorney, says the prisoners are members of a ring who marry young girls to rich old men to get their money.

In January Olga Wurst, another member of the gang, married Henry Smith, 76, a wealthy citizen of Cheyenne. Soon after that she left him. Before their marriage Smith deeded her property valued at $2,500 and gave her $500.

According to the police, the bride went direct to Denver, where she was joined by her brother and Anita Johnson. The three came to San Francisco. Here, it is claimed, the property was deeded to the Johnson girl and by her to another person.

C. W. Ebling, proprietor of a San Francisco hotel, is said to have traded the hotel management for the Cheyenne property. Since then a suit to set aside the deed has been started in Cheyenne. Ebling is now there defending his rights.

The Johnson girl, who is 20, admitted yesterday that she had been persuaded to come to San Francisco from Denver by Wurst. Olga Wurst also admitted that she had met Israel, also of the gang, here. The police say that if other charges against the quartet fail they will likely charge the two men with violating the Mann white slave law.

Olga Wurst declared that she had been courted by Smith, the Cheyenne capitalist, for several years while she was a waitress in a Denver restaurant. She says he made a settlement on her before marriage. She also says that he gave her only ten cents after their marriage and that he mistreated her. For that reason she left him.

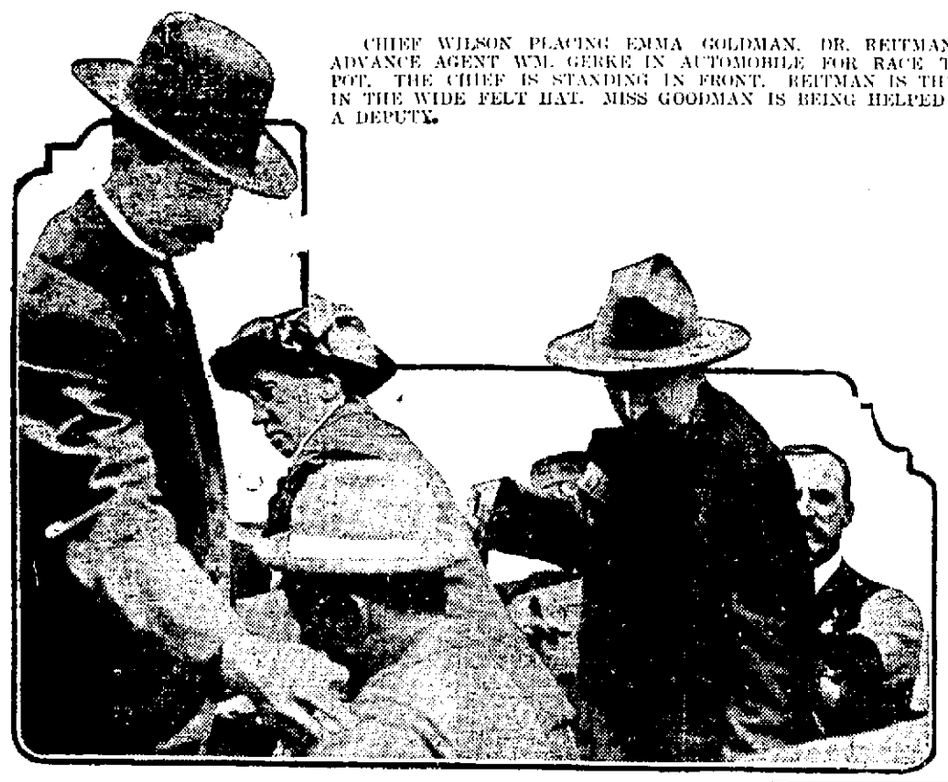
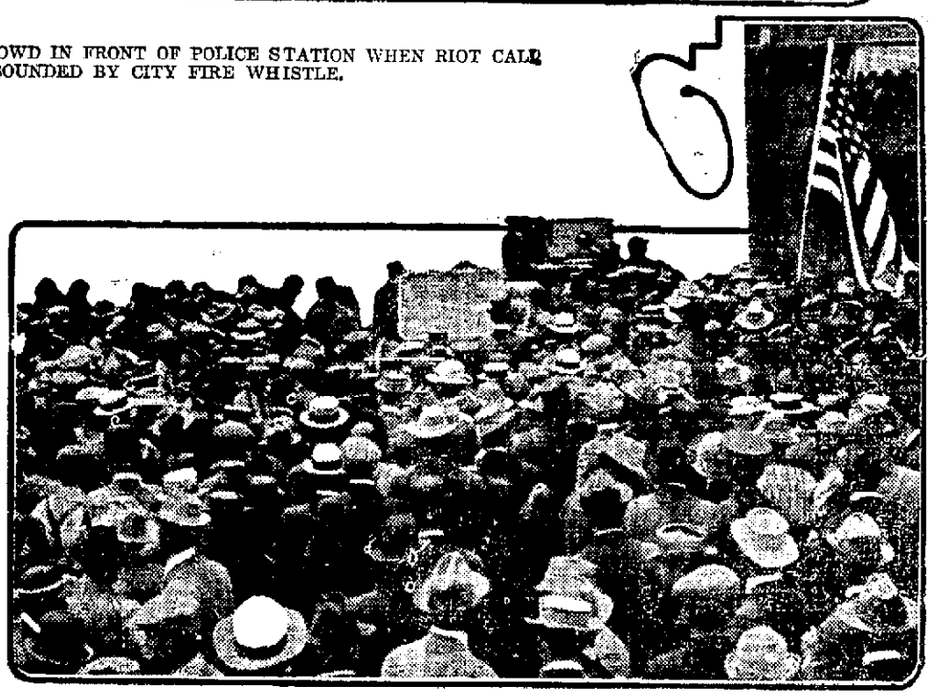
EMMA GOLDMAN IS HOOTED OUT OF SAN DIEGO WHEN MOB THREATENS TO LYNCH ANARCHIST.



CHIEF WILSON PLACING EMMA GOLDMAN, DR. REITMAN AND ADVANCE AGENT WM. GERKE IN AUTOMOBILE FOR RACE TO DEPOT. THE CHIEF IS STANDING IN FRONT. REITMAN IS THE MAN IN THE WIDE FELT HAT. MISS GOODMAN IS BEING HELPED IN BY A DEPUTY.



CROWD IN FRONT OF POLICE STATION WHEN RIOT CALL WAS SOUNDED BY CITY FIRE WHISTLE.

San Diego, Cal., May 28.—Emma Goldman, the notorious anarchist, her manager, Ren Reitman, and her advance agent, William Gerke, were recently deported from San Diego, Cal., by the police, assisted by several thousand citizens, who hooted and hissed them as they passed along the streets in the police automobile and followed them to the train, jeering and singing snatches of patriotic songs.

On their last appearance in San Diego, during the I. W. W. trouble, Reitman was tarred and feathered. This time the lives of all three were threatened by the mob and the police took every precaution to protect them. Chief of Police Wilson rushed them to the depot in an automobile, guarding them himself with a repeating rifle. An auto load of detectives followed closely and was pursued by the howling, jeering mob in all kinds of conveyances.

Chief of Police Wilson said:

"We arrested Emma Goldman and her two companions solely for their own protection. They would have been lynched in an hour had we not taken them into custody."

Rochester Grocer Said to Have Attacked Restaurant Man and Editor.

Rochester, Ind., May 28.—Charles Brackett, manager of the Progress Wholesale Grocery company and a member of one of the wealthiest families in the city, faces serious charges as a result of attacks on the proprietor of a local restaurant and an editor of one of the local papers. Brackett assaulted the restaurant man, it is alleged, following a dispute regarding a bill of goods. Later he was charged with drunkenness, but found not guilty. The local paper published an account of the affairs and Sunday Brackett went to the home of A. W. Bitters, the editor, and attacked him. Bystanders prevented him from doing serious harm, but he managed to grab Bitters by the whiskers and administer a good, strong pull. The restaurant man filed charges of assault with intent to kill and it is said Bitters will follow with another affidavit.

May or may not have been successful in discovering an absolute cure for

I CURE I CURE

TUBERCULOSIS

But the fact remains, that if the blood is in a healthy condition, if the system is normal, nature will be able to destroy the poisons floating about within the blood stream and disease will be prevented. It is obvious, therefore, that if a proper precaution is taken to keep the blood free from contagion, or if the blood has become infected to rid it of the toxins and restore it to a healthy condition; disease will be prevented, or if present will be eliminated or destroyed. What is more consistent, then, to place directly within the blood stream, serum, antitoxins or other agents that are directly antagonistic to the poisons infecting the body, and thus destroy the very cause of the disease? The cause once destroyed, it stands to reason that nature will be well able to take care of herself and a return to a normal and healthy condition will be the inevitable result. This has been my theory for years and now has become an accepted fact among the leading scientists of the world.

Not only have I demonstrated in numerous cases that my theory is correct but I have time and again proved that by introducing the WONDERFUL INTRAVENOUS SOLUTION that I have succeeded in preparing, directly into the blood stream I am able not only to CURE TUBERCULOSIS, but the various other diseases that are a result of a general infection or a low resisting power of the blood, such as SYPHILIS, ANAEMIA, RHEUMATISM, DIABETES, BRIGHT'S DISEASE, etc.

My success in curing RUPTURE, FISTULA, VARICOCELE, HYDROCELE, STRICTURE, FISTULA, PROSTATIC ENLARGEMENT, etc, without the use of the knife and without detention from business is so well known that it needs little comment.

Catarrhal troubles and many of the conditions of the stomach, liver and kidneys are frequently a result of some reflex condition brought about by some PELVIC LESION or DISEASE and can only be cured by getting at the source of the trouble, and this can only be ascertained by a careful and thorough examination such as I give. If you are interested in getting well it will pay you to make a visit to my office and I can quickly demonstrate to you just why I have been able to get such satisfactory results where the others have failed to give you relief.

Woman Reads as Well as She Did When Young Girl.

New York, May 28.—"I was born in Russia 115 years ago, and my name is Anna Kegaroff," said a lively little old woman, now an inmate of the Home of the Daughters of Israel of Harlem, who was reading a book without the aid of spectacles. "No," she said, "I do not use glasses, and I can read any kind of type. I have read a lot during my days, but I never strained my sight or read when the light was poor, and I am thankful because I can see just as well today as when I was young. The only thing that troubles me is that I am a little hard of hearing. Otherwise I feel very well." Mrs. Kegaroff thinks eating little but often makes for long life. She eats every two hours. Her daily menu is: A glass of milk and water first thing in the morning; at 10 a cup of coffee and milk with a slice of toast; at noon a bowl of vegetable soup and some meat; at 2 p. m., coffee and milk with a slice of toast; at 4 p. m., more toast, coffee and milk; at 6 a light supper. With her lunch and supper she takes a little glass of wine.

SAY COLONEL DRANK LITTLE

Garfield, Regis H. Post, former governor of Porto Rico; Lawrence Abbott, W. Emelin Roosevelt, William Loeb, jr., and newspaper correspondents who have accompanied the colonel on many of his campaign trips.

All of these witnesses are to testify as to Col. Roosevelts habits with reference to liquor in his official and private life.

Then Many Depositions.

James H. Pound, chief counsel for the plaintiff, made it known that many depositions are to be read after the hearing of oral testimony, which precluded the possibility of completing the case on behalf of Col. Roosevelt before tomorrow. Such depositions as already have been read indicate that much time will be taken up with the lengthy depositions yet to come because of the probability of legal arguments over technical points involving the ammissibility oof evidence.

Court will take a recess over Friday on account of it being a legal holday. Many of the attorneys believe the case cannot go to the jury before the middle of next week.

Was Never Immoderate.

Although Col. Roosevelt, on returning to Europe from his African hunt, was obliged to attend banquets and receptions tendered him by monarchs, he never indulged in champagne to an immoderate degree, was the testimony of O'Laughlin, who said he had been associated with Col. Roosevelt for twenty years. The witness said he met the former president on the Nile after the African hunt and accompanied him as far as Paris, acting as secretary to Col. Roosevelt. O'Laughlin accompanied the colonel on various campaign trips in this country.

"During your twenty years experience with Col. Roosevelt have you ever seen him in the slightest degree under the influence of liquor?"

"I not only never saw him under the influence of liquor, but it seems absolutely silly to me to have any one suggest the fact that he ever was," replied O'Laughlin emphatically.

"At banquets have you ever seen him drink any liquor?"

"At banquets he some times took a glass of whitewine. I never saw him drink more than one glass of champagne."

O'Laughlin described the various dinners, official and otherwise, given at Washington.

The court held it was competent for the plaintiff to show whether Col. Roosevelt followed custom in the use of liquor in the white house.

He Followed Precedent.

O'Laughlin said his first experience with presidents began with the second Cleveland administration and Col. Roosevelt followed the precedent of Presidents Cleveland and McKinley in serving wines at public dinners.

"Are you not in charge of some work of the progressive party?" O'Laughlin was asked on cross examination.

"I am not," he answered.

O'Laughlin said Col. Roosevelt had appointed his assistant secretary of state and he had gone on a mission to Japan for the Roosevelt administration. He said he went to Japan the same year that Col. Roosevelt ordered the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific.

"Now, you mention that Col. Roosevelt sent the fleet to the Pacific. Was that measure taken because of the relations between this country and Japan? Was it to prevent war?"

"Well, yes, it was perfectly evident that Japan would not go to war with this country if it was apparent that this country was more powerful. It was one of the measures taken by Col. Roosevelt to prevent war. It was a measure of peace.

"There was not a reputable correspondent in Washington but who thought the report was silly; too absurd to be regarded or repeated."

Report Silly and Absurd.

"I will ask you if in 1912 and for some time prior if there was not a general report among newspaper men that Col. Roosevelt drank to excess?" Attorney Belding inquired.

O'Laughlin, shaking his finger at the lawyer, replied:

Counsel on both sides were on their feet with regard to this reply and the jury was excluded. Attorney Pound said he found the answer "embarrassing" and Belden explained that he proposed to show what other newspapers had to say on the subject. The answer was stricken out by order of the court.

As to "General" Reports.

The lawyers then suggested in the absence of the jury that the legal question of the admissibility of testimony touching on "general" reports that Col. Roosevelt uses liquor to excess be settled. Attorney Belden said it was the intention of the defense to ask for character witnesses in an attempt to show the position ofthe defense, that "there was in existence a general report amounting to a general reputation, that Col. Roosevelt does use liquors and sometimes to excess, that these reports were published in newspapers and Col. Roosevelt read these reports and this charge had never been contradicted by him; the defendant published the report ofthe former president's reputed excessive use of intoxicants, believing it to be true and not with any malice."

Mr. Belden maintained that such testimony was required to show the good faith and absence of malice in the publication of the defendant's editorial. It could not be, in the presence of widespread comment by the public and in important newspapers, stated the lawyer, that Mr. Roosevelt had been greatly damaged by the repetition of charges of intoxication in a remote weekly with a circulation of about 3,000 copies.

What Defense Will Show.

"We propose to show," continued the lawyer, "that such charges as were made in the Iron Ore were by no means confined to this region. The plaintiff, during 1912, was the most talked of man in the United States and we expect to introduce testimony to show that adverse comment as to his habits were made in many other parts of the country. This point bears strongly in showing the absence of malice on the part of the defendant."

"In the declaration to this suit the plaintiff not only included the question of his use or non-use of liquor, but also that of his general reputation," said Mr. Belden.

The attorney read from the declaration, quoting then Col. Roosevelt's declamation that he "never had been suspected of drinking alcoholic liquors to excess." On this basis, he said, the defense would claim the right to bring out testimony on Col. Roosevelt's reputation in various parts of the country. The purpose of the defense, as intimated by Col. Roosevelt's attorneys, was to prevent exclusion of "hearsay" testimony throughout the trial.

The court asked Mr. Belden whether the defense would combat the position of the plaintiff that malice in the publication of the article was a basis for damages. Mr. Belden answered that proof of malice undoubtedly would increase the basis for damage and the defense would combat the attitude of the plaintiff.

Attorney Pound's Statement.

Attorney Pound here arose and said:

"At first I wanted to sue for $50,000, but Col. Roosevelt insisted that the amount asked for should be nominal. He did not want to be vindictive, but wanted merely damages for the publication of a falsehood."

It was stated by Mr. Belden that the pecuniary damages in this case under the law might be any sum from six cents to $50,000, regardless of the amount asked in the suit.

Whether the alleged libel was true or not, Mr. Belden argued, the defendant believed the article to be true and did not publish it out of malice. Attorney W. H. Van Benschoten, for Col. Roosevelt, said he would not oppose the attitude of the defense that the admission of so-called heresay evidence, bearing upon the colonel's reputation as to liquor, was merely to mitigate damages. He contended, however, that such evidence should not be admitted unless it first should be proved that the defendant knew of the reports before he published the article and believed them to be true and based his article on them, believing them to be true.

Holds Points Incompatible.

"Under the position of the defense," argued Mr. Van Benschoten, "a man may be as pure as St. Paul and his reputation may be ruined in a moment by a lot of gossip mongers. The two points attempted by the defense are incompatible. You cannot mitigate and deny at the same time."

Various libel suit decisions were cited by Attorney Pound. In one case a man merely had said, "He stole my horse," another case was that of a woman who sued for libel because a neighbor said she stole a pocketbook which she found on the street.

"The defense has said that this case is unprecedented," shouted Mr. Pound. "It is true that there has been a revulsion on the part of presidents to come into court, but I can cite you a recent case where the king of England prosecuted a newspaper for charging him with being a bigamist in marrying before he married the present queen. Would it have been a defense for the editor to have come into court and say, 'Oh, I only know what I heard and I publish what I hear'?"

The argument of attorneys in the absence of the jury was still on when court adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Clamor for Admittance.

Greater crowds than any since the trial of the suit surrounded the court house this afternoon and clamored for admittance. So great became the jam on the long flight of steps leading to the main entrance that it was necessary for the sheriff to lock the doors so that the attorneys and others entitled to seats were required to enter by a side door.

All the balconies in the court room were filled, chiefly with women anxious to get a glimpse of the former president as he sat back of, and somewhat isolated, from his attorneys, while every seat on the floor of the room, including many chairs placed in the aisles, were occupied.

When court convened at 2 p. m. the attorneys continued their argument over legal questions, the jurors having been excluded.

His Physician Testifies.

Following the former president and Mr. Riis on the stand yesterday, Dr. Alexander Lambert, the Roosevelt family physician and intimate friend of thirty years, Dr. T. N. Rixey, former surgeon general of the United States navy, and Gilson Gardner, a newspaper man, testified.

Dr. Lambert, aside from his intimate social and professional relations with the plaintiff, testified that he had made a special study of the heart and lungs and of alcohol, tobacco, opiates and drugs on the human system.

When Mr. Andrews, on cross examination, suggested that witnesses' knowledge of what the colonel drank at meal time did not extend to breakfasts, the doctor, who talked very rapidly, sparkled back: "Oh, yes, indeed, many breakfasts. I have frequently stayed at the Roosevelt home all night and might drop in at breakfast any day, as I frequently did."

Dr. Lambert said he had given special attention to the study of alcoholism more than to any other line; had written a book on the subject which was standard in the profession and probably during his career had treated 40,000 cases of alcoholism and allied disorders.

Extremely Temperate.

"He is extremely temperate," testified the doctor. "His heart and liver, which if an alcoholic would be affected were prodigiously healthy. He never was called upon to treat his friend professionally until he was called to Mercy hospital, Chicago, after Colonel Roosevelt's life had been attempted at Milwaukee. He described the course of the bullet through the ribs, the ghastly wound it caused and the big bruise which covered a considerable part of the patient's side. "None but a very vigorous and healthy man could have stood the shock and loss of blood as did Colonel Roosevelt," he said. "No alcoholic could have rallied as he did. He was not nervous, as an alcoholic would have been and despite the pain, fell asleep and rested as quietly as a baby. Had he been a drinking man, his nervous system would have shown it; he might even have had delirium tremens. It is a fact that fifty per cent of alcoholics who are wounded or shocked as Mr. Roosevelt was would have gone into deliriums."

Witness spoke of hunting trips in Colorado, Montana and in Louisiana, in which he was the plaintiff's companion. There was usually liquor in camp, but Roosevelt did not carry it. On these trips he remembered but once when his friend took a drink and that was a glass of champagne taken at a dinner given to the members of a hunting party on board a train as the outfit was about to separate and go their various ways. It was purely a social function, witness declared.

Dr. Rixey Testifies.

Dr. Rixey, as white house physician, viewed his responsibilities with great gravity and according to his testimony fairly haunted the plaintiff during his seven years at Washington. He hovered over the president like an anxious mother over her infant; he visited him every morning and crept upon him in the dark and at all kinds of unexpected hours to see that the chief executive of the nation was not taking chances with his health. He watched what the president ate and what he drank and general supervised his diet.

Dr. Rixey spoke in so low a voice that counsel and jury had difficulty in hearing him. The former surgeon general is a spare, gray man, with a drooping mustache and his words came languidly. He gave the plaintiff a clean bill of health.

One statement which he made in tones not loud enough for the plaintiff to hear caused the latter to smile appreciably and to glance sharply at the jury to observe if they heard it. That was when the witness said: "In the seven and a half years I was at the white house with Colonel Roosevelt, he could not have gotten drunk without my knowledge." Gilson Gardner said that he had attended many public functions at which Colonel Roosevelt had been the principal guest and had never seen him under the influence of liquor to the slightest degree.

KERN WINS IN HIS DEMAND FOR PROBE

IT WILL BE SWEEPING

Washington, May 28.—By the viva voce vote the senate yesterday adopted the resolution authorizing a sweeping investigation of conditions preceding and accompanying the strike of coal miners in the Paint Creek region in West Virginia. The resolution, first introduced in somewhat different form by Senator Kern, has been before the senate for a month, the subject of many bitter attacks and scores of speeches of commendation.

Under the resolutions authority the senate through the education and labor committee will look into charges of peonage in West Virginia of violation of the immigration laws; of interference with the mails and postoffices, and of violation of the constitution and laws of the United States in trial of citizens by a military tribunal. It will examine reported combinations among operators in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act, and alleged discrimination by immigration authorities at ports of entry and determine whether arms and explosives were imported into Paint Creek for improper use.

The terms of the authorization are so broad that the committee will be able to inquire into anything and everything which figured in the troubles between the miners and the operators.

Second in History.

The investigation will be the second in the history of the nation, so far as senators have shown in debate, to be made of the acts of a state by a legislative branch of the government. The strike in the Couer dAlene mining region in Idaho was investigated by a house committee in 1900.

The education and labor committee will meet probably today to begin the work of investigation. Its first action will be the naming of a sub-committee to make a personal trip to the coal strike region to examine witnesses. Senator Borah will be chairman and Senators Shields, Swanson, Martine and Kenyon will be other members. The sub-committee's report is looked for next month.

Senators Borah, Root, Sutherland and Reed spoke in behalf of the resolution yesterday and Senator Bacon opposed it on the ground that investigation of the actions of a state court was an unwarranted invasion of the state's rights.

Senators Borah and Root maintained that aside from any good that might result, the senate might obtain information which would lead to legislation more certainly to protect the rights and liberty of the individual.

"The governor of West Virginia struck at the foundation of liberty," declared Senator Reed discussing the establishment of martial law and the trial of citizens in a military tribunal. "Instead of standing upon a pedestal, as I have heard it said on this floor, he stands in the pillory, and in my opinion he will stand there as long as men revere liberty in West Virginia."

Senator Reed severely criticised the supreme court of appeals of West Virginia; which upheld the governor and the military tribunal.

Senator Root, admitting that he did not know what might result from the inquiry, declared that it should be made so that legislation might be perfected if necessary to insure the protection of the weak citizen in the rights guaranteed him by the constitution and the fourteenth amendment. He said that it might prove advisable in the future to have authority to transfer cases of this sort to the federal courts; that courts of prohibition might be needed, or the department of justice or the executive authorized to take the initiative.

The only record vote taken was on an amendment by Senator Bacon to strike out that part of the resolution authorizing an inquiry into alleged violations of the constitution and laws of the constitution and laws of the United States in trial and conviction of citizens. The amendment was defeated, 59 to 10. Senators voting for it were Bacon, Bankhead, Bryan, Catron, Goff, Overman, Smith of Georgia, Stone, Thornton and Tillman.

No man is Stronger Than his Stomach

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y. answers hosts of delicate questions about which every man or woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing.

LET the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his strength will soon fail. One's stamina—forcefullness and strength of mind or muscle depend upon the blood, and the blood in turn, requires a healthy stomach, for the stomach is the laboratory where the food is digested and such elements are taken up—or assimilated—which make blood. In consequence all the organs of the body, such as heart, lungs, liver and kidneys, as well as the nervous system, feel the bad effect if the stomach is deranged.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

helps the stomach to digest food properly, starts the liver into new activity, removing the poisons from the blood, and the various organs get rich, red blood, instead of being illy nourished. The refreshing influence of this extract of native medicinal plants has been favorably known for over 40 years. Everywhere some neighbor can tell you of the good it has done.

Sold by all medicine dealers in liquid or tablet form; or send 50 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, and a trial box will be mailed you.

WILL LOCATE AND MARK OLD TRAIL

ACROSS THE PRAIRIE

Muskogee, Okla, May 28.—The Boy Scouts of Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Muckogee and from as many more cities in the state as care to participate, will assemble in Muskogee on June 8, and on the morning of June 9 will start on a "hike" across the country to mark the Irving trail. The march will be made under the direction of C. H. Fenstermacher, scout master of Muskogee, and C. E. Buchner, scout master of Tulsa.

The marking of the trail will be a difficult task. Washington Irving and party encamped in Fort Gibson in 1832, eighty-one years ago, and following his sojourn in Oklahoma wrote his "Tour of the Prairies."

There have been many changes since then, most of the old landmarks having entirely disappeared, and the scout explorers must be guided chiefly by tradition. The site of the Irving tent in Fort Gibson will be the starting point. There is no person now living who was here at the time Irving established his camp.

Sam Houston, Benge's father, companion of Tonish, conspicuously mentioned in the book, described to him the location of the tent. Mr. Benge, who died a few years ago, pointed out the site to J. S. Holden, the veteran editor of the Fort Gibson New Era, and the latter erected on the spot a monument of stone with this inscription.

Site of Irving's Tent, 1832.

Erected by J. S. Holden, 1909.

The Irving party crossed the Grand river opposite the old fort above where is now located the Iron Mountain railroad bridge, and proceeded in a northwesterly direction, the first stop being made at the old Chief Jolly farm, a mile from the fort. Here was a clearing where the chief had erected a log house. The old house, with two stone chimneys, is still standing. There is also an old pear tree planted by Gen. Sam Houston, who once lived there. The same spring from which Irving drank is still bubbling beneath the branches of a large burr oak, one of the landmarks on the Irving trail.

On the east bank of the Verdigris river, near Rex, is another landmark, a gnarled post-oak tree, the only one standing for several miles, perhaps the first seen by Irving in this country.

IT SURE WAS.

"How do you like my new split skirt?"

MEN ARE NATURAL SLAVES OF WOMEN

Noted Author Regards This as Entirely Proper and Admirable.

EXPLAINS HER VIEW

New York, May 28.—"Men are the natural slaves of women and were created strong and intelligent for that purpose," says Mrs. G. Vere Tyler of New York, author of sketches and books, among them "The Daughter of a Rebel," a novel recently published, dealing with the temptations of a young girl has to fight with in New York to make an independent existence.

"From earliest infancy woman is broken in by man and is taught to believe he is all powerful. On account of his physical superiority and being constantly and cloverly reminded by him of her physical weakness she allows this idea to get possession of her to the exclusion of all else. She is harrassed by his supposed strength and so blinded that she can see nothing except that which is exactly ahead of her, or that which he wills her to see by his flattery. The majority of women allow their powers to grow weaker year by year from the lack of youth, due to the fact that she is under the mental control of man, who in reality always fears the awakening woman.

"Another reason that men have obtained power over women is that civilization produced sensuousness in women, and man, by nature not sensuous, took advantage. Woman is dominated only through sensuality or its outcome—vanity. The clever slave, understanding this, has pandered to both and so obtained power.

Carry a Whip.

"Women are the natural inspirers of men. Their mission is to tell them what to do and see that they do it. Nietzsche, one of the most advanced of women's slaves, an abnormally developed product of error, a victim in consequence, advised men: "When you go to see a woman, carry a whip." The case should be reversed. All women should hold a whip over men and see that they properly attend to their duties, whether it be in the matter of making love or bread-winning. Every time a woman works except with her brain she is making a mistake. She should think, and keep her slaves busy.

"Man is fitted for practical labor; woman is not. It has at various times been suggested that men make the best domestic servants. They do, and would. On shipboard, railroad, etc., where good and reliable service is a necessity, men are, for the better part, employed. Man was created for action and service; woman was not. Her part is to produce the men, provide employment for them and make them work.

"The trouble with married life is that the slave has been put at the helm. Woman is the natural head of the house. Napoleon was not entirely wrong when he declared that the greatest woman was the one who produced the greatest number of sons. Napoleon knew the value of workers.

Make Him Do the Impossible.

"There is scarcely one man in a thousand who, if a woman drops her handkerchief, will not fall down on his knees to pick it up for her. He is her slave, and unconsciously that fact expresses itself. It isn't a question of politeness; the same man might not hesitate to be impolite; it is instinct.

"The history of woman is the brute force of man expended upon her domination. Man, the natural slave, has always feared her power, and blindly with the slave's lack of delicate perception, attempted to distinguish it. Woman, naturally sensuous, has allowed herself to be deluded into eulogizing the body at the expense of the brain, and is now making the greater mistake of attempting to compete with man in his position of slave. She should always be the queen. Woman's duty to the world is to place herself upon a pedestal, and from that height command. She should evolve schemes as high as the mountains and deep as the sea conceive of the impossible itself, and make man achieve it."

MANICURISTS MAY GET MILLIONS.

PEARL HOLMES WHO MAY INHERIT MILLIONS.

San Francisco, Cal., May 28.—From manicures to millionaires seems a big jump, but Miss Pearl Holmes and her sister, Minnie, who are now on their way to Sweden to claim their share of nearly $160,000,000 don't think so.

The story of the good fortune of the young women dates back to 1758, when Carl Christopher Springer left a large sum deposited in the Bank of Sweden in Stockholm and came to this country. He settled in Delaware and acquired from William Penn land which today takes in the entire city of Wilmington.

Carl Christopher Springer left a will bequeathing his estate, but enmity arose between the heirs and the will was destroyed. One of these sons was Lawrence Springer, and it is from his branch of the family that the Misses Holmes have descended.

Finally the United States government took a hand in the matter and, to ascertain the rightful owners of the property, took a census of all the Springers in the United States. This was followed by an offer on the part of the government of $11,000,000 for the land included in Wilmington, which was refused.

Meanwhile the two manicure girls were working and gathering evidence to prove that they were the descendants of the wealthy Carl Christopher Springer. Now the girls are going to Stockholm to make a demand upon the Bank of Sweden for the money deposited there by Carl Christopher Springer in 1758, and which, if they obtain, will be divided among themselves and their relatives.

Smooths Out the Wrinkles

Worry causes more wrinkles on young faces than is traced thereon by the fingers of Old Father Time. And all household duties are sources of worriment, either in the doing or in having them done.

The old rhyme "man works from sun to sun—woman's work is never done," always will be thus until women decide to banish worriment by taking advantage of the many truly labor saving and trouble abolishing household devices, which they can now obtain and use at trifling cost.

The G-E Electric Flatiron

is one of these. It does a week's ironing at a cost of about fifteen cents for electricity. It smooths out all ironing day troubles, also, the crow's feet and wrinkles, which "worry" paints on faces young and fair.

Come in and try one. We handle all the latest types and sizes of G-E Irons.

New York, May 28.—A memorial meeting to the services rendered by Dr. Prince A. Morrow, who died in this emy of Medicine, at which President emy of Medicine, at which President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard paid a glowing tribute to Dr. Morrow "as a pioneer social reformer."

"He grappled," said Dr. Eliot, "with a social problem which our race has felt for centuries unable to handle. His dictum was 'You must break silence on this subject,' for he well knew that the great spread of the social evil throughout the world has been due to supreme ignorance of this most important problem.

"He was inspired to this undertaking by the awful human misery and suffering which came daily under his eye in his chosen field. He saw and resolved to do, and in the doing he was a pioneer in the truest sense. Dr. Morrow felt that the social evil could no tbe assaulted by force, but that it could be most effectually attacked by weapons that would make it cease to be profitable. He taught that the way to cure the evil down to the roots was to have the same standard of morality for men and women; that to make and keep society pure men must be as chaste as women.

"The practice of society today is as it has ever been to pursue and persecute the woman and to let the man go free. This is fundamentally and dreadfully wrong. There should not be a double standard of morality. It is the man who is the source of prostitution, not the woman.

"All of the great interest in eugenics and sex education today is a direct outgrowth from the seeds Dr. Morrow sowed. I wish I could congratulate him on this accession of multitudinous strength for his cause."

HIS MASTER'S VOICE.

A record of his master's voice
One afternoon they made.
They put it in a phonograph
And then the same they played,
The dog, he didn't recognize
The voice, or once look up.
It had no whisky on it, so
They couldn't blame the pup.

THE MARKETS

THE LOCAL MARKETS.

Receipts Are Getting Heavier and Trade Is Brisk.

Increased activity came to the local markets Tuesday and today and the receipts were heavier than they have been for several days. This was especially so with hay. On Tuesday twenty-five loads came to the city. This was the record at the city scales. The price ranged from $10 to $13. Twelve loads of oats passed weight at the scales and six loads of corn. Butter is showing a downward tendency. This is due largely to the better pasturage. Eggs remain firm. The demand at all times for eggs keeps prices up. It is not probable they will go much lower than they are at the present time.

There is a big trade on the part of commission men in strawberries and pineapples. Our local firms receive great quantities of both from the south and they ship many to nearby towns, as they do also in other lines of fruit, berries, etc. In this respect Fort Wayne has got to be a great trading center.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, May 28.—Opinions by crop experts that rain within a week would make a wonderful difference in the dry sections of Kansas had a bearish effect today on wheat. July started at 91⅝@91¾c, and declined to 91¼c.

The close was steady with July ⅝c net lower at 91⅜c.

Fine weather and increasing receipts made corn easy. July, which opened at 57¼@57⅜c, sagged to 57⅛@57¼c.

The close was steady at 57¼c for July, ¼c under last night's close.

Oats traders were nervous about reports that recent damage appeared to be irreparable. July after starting at 37⅞@38c to 38c, rose to 38¼c.

In provisions the controlling influence was a decline at the yards. First sales with September were: Pork, $19.65 to $19.70; lard, $11.12½ to $11.15; ribs, $11.27½ to $11.30.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, May 28.—Further liquidation in the various issues of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad constituted the chief feature at the opening of today's stock market. Losses ranging from a point and a half in the common stock to over four points in the 5 per cent. bonds were recorded. All the active stocks showed nominal declines with the exception of Reading.

Liquidation was again distinctly in evidence during today's early stock market session. Initial prices reflected relative steadiness in the more representative shares, despite further severe declines in St. Louis & San Francisco issues, which yielded all the way from material fractions to 7 points for the first preferred stock. Bonds were heavy.

The market closed heavy. Liquidation in minor stocks stopped and shorts covered in the active shares, forcing rallies of a point in Reading and the Pacifics.

TWO WIDOWS AND A FIANCEE MOURN

their late husband.

Morrison died last Thursday of what may have been poisoning. Two of his wives complained that he took $17,000 of their money and a widow who says he promised to marry her, admits she gave him $1,600. The authorities believe there are others.

Mrs. Homer E. Morrison says she married Morrison three years ago; Mrs. R. W. Thompson says she married the same man, under the name of Thompson, seven years ago; Mrs. Pearl McDivitt asserts Morrison promised to marry her next month.

These three women lived on the same car line without knowing the existence of each other. Sometimes Morrison visited all three the same day. He would leave the establishment which he maintained for Mrs. Thompson, swing off the car in front of his fiancee's residence, make a hurried visit and board the next car for the Morrison home. The house where Mrs. McDivitt lives was selected by Morrison, she says, "because it was so convenient between his home and business." Mrs. Morrison says he never spent his nights at home. Mrs. Thompson says he spent those hours at her place.

Under the name of Thompson the man posed as a claim adjuster but for seven years kept Mrs. Thompson in the dark regarding his place of business. To Mrs. Morrison he was a real estate dealer but she never knew where his office was. By day he was manager of a rooming house on Chicago avenue where he never was seen at night.

From what Mrs. Thompson has said the police suspect that Morrison took poison, and they are gathering evidence to present to the coroner.

The police learned yesterday that Morrison had brought a woman to the rooming house about a year ago. He introduced her as his wife and she spoke to women at the place of their home in Evanston. Evidence indicates he may have left another widow in La Salle, Ill., and another in Barrington, Ill.

MORSE COMES BACK.

Again Chosen President of Hudson Navigation Company.

New York, May 28.—Charles W. Morse was elected today president of the Hudson Navigation company, owners of a line of steamers operating on the Hudson river. Morse was head of the company in 1909, but was deposed a year later. John W. McKinnon, who succeeded him, sold his interest in the line to a syndicate of bankers who placed it in Morse's hands, thus giving him control.

GRADUATES FIRST CLASS.

Seven Boys Complete Catholic High School Work.

The Central Catholic High school will graduate its first class on Friday, June 20. Those who will receive diplomas are Dawson Hayes, valedictorian; Charles Girardot, Adrian Hayes, Jerome Miller, Eugene O'Connor, Joseph Tompkins and Stephen Weber. All of the boys intend to enter Notre Dame university next fall. Until four years ago the Catholic students completed the regular course in the brothers school, but the need of a higher course was felt because the students were not prepared for college on finishing the course. An academic course was instituted and the present high school in Library hall was the result.

At the graduation exercises on Friday evening, June 20, the graduates will debate a question on woman suffrage, Dawson Hayes, the valedictorian, will deliver an oration, and will not take part in the debate.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS CLOSING.

Four in Wayne Township Start Vacation Terms Today.

Many children attending the country schools are enjoying interesting times these days—the schools are closing. Several have closed already, and today four of the Wayne township schools start the summer vacation. No. 2 and No. 4, taught by Miss Helen Wilkie and Miss Jennie Jones, respectively, are holding last day exercises today, and the children and patrons are enjoying a joint picnic in Wilkin's woods. School No. 3, taught by Miss Addie Johnson, and No. 6 by Joseph Bennett and Miss Pearl Townsend, also shut up shop today. The old Fairfield school, No. 5, closed yesterday, and Henry Branning, trustee of Wayne township, delivered a short talk. Miss Fannie Brown was the teacher of this school, and Mr. Branning complimented her when he said that he had not received a single complaint against the methods used in the school.
